Official Organ of the Atlantic and Gulf District, Seafarers International Union of North America

Vol. VII.

NEW YORK, N. Y., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1945

No. 30

WEISBERGER TO I.L.O. LONDON CONFERENCE; SPEAKS FOR ALL AMERICAN MERCHANT

Morris Weisberg, SIU Vice-President, flew to London last week to represent American seamen at the annual meeting of the International Labor Organization, and the Joint Maritime Commission. Many issues of vital importance to seamen of all lands are to be considered by the conference,, and next week a final report on its work will be printed Following is a digest of the agenda to be considered, and a statement of SIU-SUP policy:

CONTINUOUS EMPLOYMENT AND ENTRY, TRAINING AND PROMOTION

An International Conference dedicated to the purpose of improving the seamen's lot is always assured of the support of the SUP and the SIU. The officers on such vital matters as improved and members of our organization wages and working conditions. have repeatedly voiced their determination to assist the seafarer of whatever nationality, race, color and creed in his struggle for emancipation and to give him all the help he so justly deserves.

work of the Joint Maritime Commission of the International Labor Organization (I.L.O.) The views of the American Seamen insurance, etc., have been presented on several occasions, notably at the meeting of the I.L.O. Joint Maritime Commission in London early this year. A report was presented to the Union membership and the American public in general after our return in January from that meeting in London.

It was decided at that conference to convene a meeting of an I.L.O. sub-committee early in July, 1945, in London, at which the important issues of continuous employment and entry, trainand promotion were going to late in October. It is therefore cipal task of the seafaring men necessary to analyze anew our

This policy has in recent years position in the light of the end of found inspiring expression in our the war in Europe and to restate affiliation with the International it in clear and unmistakable Transportworkers' Federation and terms to our brother unionists our active participation in the abroad, as well as to the shipowners and government representatives in the I.L.O.

There is little to add to the opinion expressed in our previous report except to say that we, the seafarers of North America, congovernment control, lack of social sider some arguments and proposals presented at the conference of the I.L.O. Joint Maritime Commission as entirely out of line with the convictions and deeplycherished beliefs of the American seamen. An effort to bring about continuous employment at the cost of the freedom of seafaring men seems to us contrary to the interests of the seafarers everywhere and a gross interference with his and his fellow workers' right to obtain the best possible conditions for their labor.

While it must be realized that the conditions of foreign seamen differ considerably from the conbe discussed in preparation of ditions we enjoy, we continue to another full-fledged conference maintain that the main and prin-

(Continued on Page 4)

Rank And File Delegate Gets The Old Heave-Ho By NMU Convention

If anyone still doubted that the communist leadership of the NMU had effectively stifled all rank and file democracy in that "union," the recently concluded NMU convention should have answered all questions on that score. Never was a convention more autocratically run, never was less freedom of speech and action given to duly elected representatives of the membership.

Robert Coleman, NMU book 622, engine, one of the founding rank and filers, found this out when acting on the instructions of his shipmates he voted against some of the resolutions and constitutional changes that the NMU piecards were trying to railroad through.

Vilified from the chair and the floor by Curran and his stooges, legislation. without being given a chance to reply, Coleman was forced to at sea practically all the time, throw his book in when he real- they have lost intimate contact ized that his championing of de- with the NMU, but of late rumocracy had made him a marked mors had been percolating down man in the NMU.

Because his shipmates trusted him and his ability to handle These were designed, the story union affairs, Robert Coleman went, to insure the continued delegate from the NMU ship, SS in the face of mounting rank and Colby Victory of the U.S. Lines. They knew him as an original icy of collaborating with the shipmember of the union, holding one owners. of the lowest book numbers of them all. They knew him as a sincere, honest seaman who would follow to the letter any instructions the crew might give him as to how to vote on pending

ROBERT C. COLEMAN

Because the rank and filers are about some of the resolutions and proposed constitutional changes. was elected as the convention communist control of the NMU. file unrest arising from their pol-

(Continued on Page 5)

New Log Feature "Weekly Review"

The Seafarers Log is now receiving extensive distribution aboard SIU contracted ships and in foreign ports. It serves, in many instances, as the only link the men have with home for months on end.

To supply our members abroad with news from home, the Log will devote a full page each issue to a weekly round up of war and sports

This issue, and all that follow will be mailed in quantity to all SIU ships. Members should pass the LOG ashore in all foreign ports after readreading it.

The Editors hope the "Review" page will fill a need aboard SIU ship abroad. Turn now to page eleven and read this new feature.

LABOR MINISTERS AT ILO SESSION

Attending the 95th meeting of Intl. Labor Organization governing body in Quebec are, l. to r.: Chairman Carter Goodrich; Canadian Minister of Labor Humphrey Mitchell and ex-Sec. of Labor Frances Perkins. ILO representatives unanimously agreed to work with the United Nations Organization and invited the USSR to send observers to their Paris conference.

ssaman

SEAFARERS LOG

Published Weekly by the

SEAFARERS INTERNATIONAL UNION OF NORTH AMERICA

Atlantic and Gulf District

Affiliated with the American Federation of Labor

At 51 Beaver Street, New York 4, N. Y. HAnover 2-2784

- - - - President HARRY LUNDEBERG -105 Market Street, San Francisco, Calif.

JOHN HAWR - - - - - Sety-Treas. P. O. Box 25, Station P., New York City

MATTHEW DUSHANE - - - Washington Rep. 424 9th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Entered as second class matter June 15, 1945, at the Post Office in New York, N. Y., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

FORE 'n AFT

By BUNKER

Johnny Bryan was the only taker. The ship turned out to be an old rust bucket with the queerest contraption for an engine that Johnny has seen in many years of going to sea. He says it is a combination dieselturbine-quad. Sounds like something by Rube Goldberg.

* * *

This incident shows how hard it is these days to find coal burning firemen. It's no job a man would pick when he can go on an oil burner and feed the fires by turning a valve.

Several coal burners that used to be crewed by the SIU were lost in the early part of the war. Anyone who has struggled with a banjo trying to keep up a full head of steam in a North Atlantic gale, with coal that sticks to the chutes in a rough sea.

tt

One of the mysteries of the sea during this war was the disappearance of the little William Salmon, 1500 ton laker that used to be on the sulphur run out of Texas. When about a day's run out of port she was lost and never heard from again. The WSA just announced, however, that this little ship was sunk in the Carribbean May 18, 1942.

The Frances Salmon, belonging to the same outfit, was sunk on lantic.

$ $ $

Speaking of lakers, do any of you fellows remember the old Suwied? She had her deck house smashed to pieces one trip when the bosun's gang got careless and dropped one of the after booms. This laker was torpedoed in the Caribbean in June of 1942.

* * *

the bottom was the Plow City. you Mr. Anthony."

When a call came into the New York hall the other day for a coal burning fireman, Brother Rank And File Delegate Gets Old Heave-Ho. (Continued from Page 1) order and silenced by the Curran and his shipmates' views.

The crew recognizing that the rumors might be founded on fact, instructed Coleman to oppose any move that would enable shoreside communists to move into their union as a solid bloc. As was expected, the move was made. The CP leadership recommended to do away with the period of probation so that men who had just joined-and, more important, those who would be given books in the future by the leadership—would be allowed to vote for officers and make policy from the day they signed cards.

Acting on his instructions, Coleman arose to present the attitude of the men he spoke for. "The crew I represent," he told Curran and the other officials, "has ingrates and a heavy slice bar that structed me to vote against anylifts like a ton of lead, won't mark thing of this sort; anything which their passing with many tears or will allow people who are not weeping. Nor will the coal pass- even seamen to step in and take ers, who had to wrestle a wheel over our union. If this is adoptbarrow from the bunkers to the ed, the control of the union will pass forever from the hands of the rank and file seamen into the hands of these shoreside people who are here all the time."

Coleman was declared out of

They say that when the torpedo hit her in the North Atlantic on May 21, 1942, the tin fish went right through one of her rusty sides and out the other.

2 2 2

Every time you go up for raise January 20, 1942 in the North At- of grade or replacement of papers now, the Coast Guard puts you through a screening process which involves your life history from the time you wore three cornered pants. Most of the time, the boys say, they already know more about you than you can tell them. One SIU brother found this interrogation so personal and became so engrossed in it that he forgot where he was and, upon leaving, said to the lieutenant Still another laker that went to commander in charge, "Thank machine. He also opposed, be- When Curran saw that he could of what had happened to their cause of his instructions, the CP not swing Coleman into his plans and suggestions to his forproposed policy of paying dues camp, he decided to give him a mer shipmates. Because they are six months in advance.

"I oppose this," he said, "beform. If carried, it means a loss of representation by the rank and file. I feel that the system is certainly not democratic."

The same thing happened again: he was declared out of order without a chance to fully explain his position to the rest of the delegates.

During the dinner hour Joe that his ideas were not "democratic." Coleman answered that the least that Curran could do the convention. of taking the floor to express his Seafarers hall, to see if the SIU wherever they may be, checkoff system in a streamlined nounced that there was a disrupter present who had an idea that the convention wasn't democratically run. Then the CP machine went to work and launched a vicious attack on Coleman who had no chance to defend himself or explain his viewpoints.

Curran then wound up by inviting Coleman to throw his book in, if he didn't like the way Curran and James Drury came to things were being run. Realizing Coleman and "explained" to him that he was now a marked man and that he could not get a democratic chance to defend himself, late. that was a matter of opinion and Coleman took the offer and left would help him to get the story good going over. As soon as, the scattered all over the waterfronts convention reconvened, Curran of many ports, he asked our help cause it is nothing more than a took the microphone and an- in carrying to them this story of misleadership, which is ruining what was once a r ilitant union.

COLEMAN'S CONVENTION CREDENTIAL

Coleman is not slamming his former union, but condemns the communist leadership. Like all good union men he likes his union-but he now realizes that under the commie leadership there is none of the rank and file control that all democratically run unions must have. He wants the word passed to the membership, so that they might do something before it is altogether too

This the SIU will do, not only to the former crew of the Colby was to give him the opportunity Robert Coleman came to the Victory, but to all NMU men

BURTON-BALL-HATCH SILL ARBITRATION

"Peace, Brother"

We Werely Certify, that Robert C. Coleman. Book No622 E was duly elected a delegate to represent (Port or Vessel) S.S. COLBY VICTORY at the Fifth Constitutional Convention of the National Maritime Union of America, which is being held at NMU Headquarters, 346 West 17th Street, New York City, commencing with July 2nd, 1945 at 10 A.M.

Given under our hand and seal this Zday of July ORIGINAL

National Office NATIONAL MARITIME UNION

By PAUL HALL THE ISTHMIAN DRIVE

The Isthmian organizing drive of the Seafarers has now been in effect for approximately three months. Many of our members are doing good work in this drive and with their continued help, and the support of the membership, this drive will culminate in a victory for the Seafarers. Inasmuch as some of our members are not fa- he paid off sick in Shanghai. Afmiliar with this drive, let us review it for their benefit.

Isthmian is the largest unorganized steamship company in this country, operating some 90 freight vessels, ranging all the way from C-4 ships down to rust-buckets. The NMU attempted to organize this company once before with their efforts reaching a peak in 1943 when, after considerable hard work within this company, the NMU found that they did not possess enough strength to petition for an election. The NMU blamed the lack of their strength in this company to the rapid turnover of Isthmian crews. This, however, was not true.

The failure of the NMU to make any sizeable gains with the Isthmian seamen was simply the fact that the Isthmian men did not go for the phony policies and programs advanced by the NMU.

The SIU did not participate in that drive due to the fact that we had other problems which took most of our effort. Now, however, we have nothing to hinder us in this effort. The Seafarers, for the first time, is meeting its opposition in a head-on struggle, a struggle in which the largest steamship company in this country is the stake. Today we find many Isthmian men expressing a preference for our

On the other hand, we find many NMU men as well as paid organizers in this country's ships working against us as hard as possible. While we know that the thinking seamen in Isthmian will never go for the propaganda put out by the NMU, it is well that we realize that these people and their opposition are to be taken seriously. We cannot blind ourselves to the fact that even while NMU organizers are unable to do much with these crews, they nevertheless spread rumors and lies in an attempt to villify the name of the SIU. It is interesting to note as well that this NMU outfit, as large as it is, is so bankrupt in principle that they resert to mud slinging for the lack of a good and honest trade union policy. For instance, when Isthmian men are told of the better SIU contracts in this field, the NMU'ers try to pass it off because they would have the Isthmian men believe that the reason we have superior contracts (and they do admit it) is that we are "shipowners' stooges."

EVERY MAN'S FIGHT

Even unorganized seamen such as Isthmian men recognize this for what it is-a lie-for every one knows that shipowners do not give seamen conditions and good union contracts to make stooges of them, but only because they are forced to do so. It is well that these people are basing their campaign on false propoganda of this sort for it is more revealing than anything else as to their own lack of conditions and unionism.

In spite of these favorable points, however, this campaign must be taken seriously by all SIU members. We must take this task for the tremendous job that it is. Our opposition has already done so and has named the CIO's No. 1 Hatchet Man, Harry Bridges, to lead their campaign into Isthmian as well as to attempt to sabotage the SIU. We must be on our guard in this drive and we must continually fight for the education of Isthmian seamen in the Seafarer's way of doing business. We have to carry this fight into every Isthmian ship and to every Isthmian man that we can possible reach. It is our common duty to engage in this fight. Our strength in the company at this date is comparatively small considering the amount of work which remains to be done. The only manner in which we can accomplish the rest of this task is to make it every man's fight. This company is the battle grounds on an organizational basis between honest trade labor unionism and Communist Party "unionism." It is our job to show these unorganized men the benefits of the first and the detriments of the latter. One of the things, too, that we have found very good for the education of these men is to show them SIU contracts. Many of our members, because of sailing under these contracts continually, often fail to appreciate them. Nevertheless, they are without an equal in the entire industry and well do the unorganized seamen appreciate it when they are shown the facts.

Each time you ship, take along a few extra copies of various contracts and when you see men off Isthmian ships, give them a copy and discuss the agreements with them.

Tell them how they, too, can sail under these conditions. Our that the matter could be settled the city, the demonstrators went mand are not so much higher success in this entire drive depends upon each man playing a partso, let's ORGANIZE ISTHMIAN-and let every SIU man be an organizer:

Battle Of

When brother Richard Lewis left New York in January, 1941, on the City of Alma, a Waterman ship bound for Santos, he never thought that the voyage would eventually take him to Shanghai, Manila, and the infamous death march of Bataan.

But the sequence of unforseen events did that to this SIU seaman and, recently arrived back in the States, he told a thrilling story of his experiences in the intervening four years.

From Santos Brother Lewis continued on to Trinidad, then through the canal to Honolulu and from there to China, where ter hospitalization, Lewis caught the Rupa, another Waterman ship, back to Manila, arriving there just before the Japs bombed the city.

When it became impossible to leave Manila, Lewis offered his services to the army, along with a number of other merchant seamen and was put to work moving supplies from Manila to Corrigidor. He was on the rock during some of the heaviest to bombing raids, then went to Bataan, where he was serving when surrender came on April 9th, 1942.

Lewis and several other merchant seamen, whose names he doesn't remember, were put in a stockade with Philippine civiljans and troops for about a week, after which they were started on the infamous Death March of Bataan.

His memories of this experience include the sight of hundreds of Philippino women being raped by Jap soldiers running amock, of soldiers and civilians shot as they tried to get water, of men abandoned by the road to die or be bayoneted by the Jap guards as the procession trudged along. The only food during the seven days of the march was what furtive Philippinos managed to pass to them along the route.

American defeat.

Their first food after the Death March was a filthy meal of maggoty rice, their quarters were bamboo beds which housed ten

WSA Fears Texas Shipping Drop

WASHINGTON, July 4-Curtailment of shipping through ports in the Galveston-Houston, Tex., area will be necessary, a War Shipping Administration spokesman said today, unless rail- chasing agency of German con- living, the unemployed and partroads serving the docks operate sumers' cooperatives - has been time workers asked for the imon a seven-day schedule.

Declaring that the Office of Defense Transportation has been asked to amend railroad regulations so as to effect a full-work week, the WSA official said that longshoremen now find themselves idle on Saturday afternoons because cargo is not being moved the north Italian industrial cen- owners Association has informed onto and away from the waterfront on week-ends.

The WSA feels there is no use having ships tied up in ports beplans to reduce the number going reconstruction without purge of continues. The striking dockers into Texas ports, he said, adding all fascists." After parading in state that what they really deonly by the ODT.

Defense Transportation officials

RICHARD LEWIS

men in a space hardly large enough for four. Every morning, says Lewis, one of the bed's occupants would be dead from weakness and starvation.

Weakness did not, however, save them from heavy work. Most of the time they spent digging graves for their comrades, many of whom the Japs buried before life was completely ex-

Brother Lewis himself was pronounced dead from malaria and was lined up for burial, but managed to crawl away before the

After several months at Camp O'Dennell, the group was taken to Cabanatuan prison, about 80 miles from Manila. Despite constant sickness, Lewis and others were forced to drag plows and work in the fields, all the time ill-fed and frequently beaten for "discipline."

At Fort McKinley, their next place of internment, the prisoners survived on two meals a day, each meal being a cup of watered rice. Occasional meat was obtained by catching luckless dogs and cats.

Last stop for Lewis and his companions was famous Bilibid prison, where, in conditions of the utmost filth, the group was rescued on February 4th, 1945, by troops of the 37th Division. At the moment of liberation the Japs started to shell the prison but, according to Lewis, the prisoners didn't mind this a bit after what they had been through and shook their fists derisively at the Jap guns.

After a thorough physical check-up and a rest, with plenty of food, the survivors were flown to Leyte and then sent by luxury liner to Frisco.

Now back in Cleveland and working on the Lakes, Lewis was emphatic about one thing. He said, "You can be sure I'm no burial squad did its gruesome hero. The heroes are dead. They are still on Bataan."

Relations between the Com-|headquarters of the Chamber of them and boasted of inevitable deliver ball bearings and mach-towns. inery to Finland so that the Finns in turn may meet reparations obligations to Russia.

> Communist leader. Otto Kuusin- fact also notes that at least one en, came to Sweden especially to high officer of the Allied Military plead with the Swedish Metal Government privately expressed Workers Union, and the Swedish strong disapproval of this use of Communists backed her request, tanks against striking workers. but this pressure had no result.

$ $ $ been reinstated.

$ $ 5 On July 4, all the workers of ter of Turin went on strike and striking Rottendam dock workparaded in the streets carrying ers that increased wages amountposters with slogans such as "We ing to 25% above the rates of want bread;" "We want facts not last May would be paid, the strike cause they cannot be loaded and words;" and "There can be no of Rottendam dock workers still to the Chamber of Labor. The same day, a thousand conditions and increased rations. said the matter was being studied. workers in Genoa marched to the (LABOR PRESS ASSOCIATES)

munists and Swedish labor are Labor and to the City Hall to proexceedingly strained because of test the present plight of the the Finnish Communist's plea workers affected by the closing that striking Swedish metal down of factories. Similar demworkers go back to work. The onstrations are reported from Jap guards, he said, taunted Finns want Swedish factories to most important north Italian

In Milan, American tanks were used to break up these demonstrations and the N. Y. Times The daughter of the Finnish correspondent in reporting the Only 20% of Milan Province's 450,000 industrial workers are What was in pre-Nazi days the now employed full time, largely nerve center of the largest Ger- because of lack of fuel. While the man consumers' cooperative as-employed workers asked for sociation - the wholesale pur- raises to meet the increase cost of restored in Hamburg. The old plementation of a previous agreedirectors of this 50-year-old Ger- ment between the major employman cooperative, which was ers' and employees' groups which closely linked with the German provided for the emergency pay free trade union movement, have of three-quarters of normal wages during the lay-off period.

> $ $ $ Despite the fact that the Shipnominal wages as better living

Ship Casualties In The Atlantic

During the sub war in the Atlantic 1,554 U.S. merchant ships were lost. Hundreds were SIU ships, and thousands of SIU men gave their lives. Thousands more now face equally dangerous waters in the Pacific. Last week the Log published the ships lost between July 5, 1942 and Sept 20, 1943. This week we printed the rest of the ships lost, up to and including May 5, 1945.

Date	Name of Vessel	Area
Sept. 21	-CORNELIA P. SPE	NCER
		Red Sea and Indian Ocean
Sept. 21	-WILLIAM W. GER	HARD
1		Mediterranean-Black Sea
Sept. 22	-RICHARD OLNEY.	.Mediterranean-Black Sea
Sept. 23	STEEL VOYAGER	Northwest Atlantic
Sept. 24	-ELIAS HOWE	Red Sea and Indian Ocean
		Mediterranean-Black Sea
		Northeast Atlantic
Oct. 11-	-JOHN H. COUCH	Pacific
		Mediterranean-Black Sea
Oct. 15-	JAMES RUSSELL L	OWELL
Oct. 19-	-DELISLE	Nort's west Atlantic
Oct. 21-	-TIVIVES	.Mediterranean-Black Sea
Nov. 6-	-SANTA ELENA	.Mediterranean-Black Sea
Nov. 11-	-CAPE SAN JUAN	Pacific
		OGGCaribbean
Nov. 24-	-MELVILLE E. STO	NECaribbean
Dec. 2-	JOHN BASCOM	.Mediterranean-Black Sea
Dec. 2-	JOHN HARVEY	.Mediterranean-Black Sea
Dec. 2-	JOHN L. MOTLEY	Mediterranean-Black Sea
Dec. 2-	JOSEPH WHEELER	Mediterranean-Black Sea
Dec. 2-	SAMUEL J. TILDEN	1
		Mediterranean-Black Sea
Dec. 3-	TOUCHET	Gulf of Mexico
Dec. 16-	-McDOWELL	Caribbean
Dec. 26-	-JOSE NAVARRO	Caribbean
1944
Jan	SUMNER I. KIMBA	LLNorthwest Atlantic
	-ALBERT GALLATII
2000		ed Sea and Indian Ocean

Jan. 6—WILLIAM S. ROSECRANS Mediterranean-Black Sea Jan. 10—DANIEL WEBSTER. Mediterranean-Black Sea

Jan. 25—ANDREW G. CURTIN......Northeast Atlantic Jan. 25-PENELOPE BARKER......Northeast Atlantic Jan. 25-WALTER CAMP....Red Sea and Indian Ocean Jan. 29—SAMUEL HUNTINGTON

Mediterranean-Black Sea Feb. 1-EDWARD BATES....Mediterranean-Black Sea Feb. 15—ELIHU YALE.....Mediterranean-Black Sea Feb. 22—GEORGE CLEEVE..Mediterranean-Black Sea Feb. 22—PETER SKENE OGDEN

Mediterranean-Black Sea Feb. 23-E. G. SEUBERT.....Red Sea and Indian Ocean Mar. 4-WILLIAM S. THAYER......Northeast Atlantic Mar. 6—DANIEL CHESTER FRENCH Mediterranean-Black Sea

Song Of The Merchant Marine

By ALEX H. G. ANDERSON

Out of this war have come countless stories Of Heroes and battles, and their many glories But few people know of the efforts supreme, Made by the United States Merchant Marine.

There are few songs for these brave fearless men Nor to the ships which are manned by them; Yet these men, in oil and salt stained dungarees Are sweating and dying to conquer the seas.

Their ships carry food, guns and munitions; To get it across is their sole ambition, They know they must get it there at any cost, For their cargo may mean a battle, won or lost.

They don't know the thrill of a cheering throng-Just the lonely wail of a seagull's song; The hum of the engines-that is their theme, A safe voyage home-that is their dream.

May God give them strength as they face the spray, Keep a star in the sky to guide their way; Let us all rise and show our esteem,

Give a hearty cheer to the Merchant Marine.

Mar.	9-CLARK	MILLS	Mediterranean-Black	Sea
	10-WILLIA

Mediterranena-Black Sea Mar. 12-VIRGINIA DARE....Mediterranean-Black Sea Mar. 13-H. D. COLLIERRed Sea and Indian Ocean Mar. 17-MAIDEN CREEK.....Mediterranean-Black Sea Mar. 17—SEAKAYNortheast Atlantic Mar. 19-JOHN A. POORRed Sea and Indian Ocean

Mar. 29—RICHARD HOVEY. Red Sea and Indian Ocean
Apr. 16-MEYER LONDON Mediterranean-Black Sea
Apr. 16-PAN PENNSYLVANIA Northwest Atlantic
Apr. 16—THOMAS G. MASARYK
Mediterranean-Black Sec
Apr. 17-JAMES GUTHRIEMediterranean-Black Sea
Apr. 20-PAUL HAMILTON. Mediterranean-Black Sea
June 10-CHARLES MORGANNortheast Atlantic
June 28-CHARLES W. ELIOTNortheast Atlantic
June 29-H. G. BLASDELLNortheast Atlantic
June 29-JAMES A. FARRELNortheast Atlantic
June 29-JOHN A. TREUTIENNortheast Atlantic
July —EXMOUTHUndetermined

Date Name of Vessel Area
July 2-JEAN ICOLETRed Sea and Indian	n Ocean
July 6—ESSO HARRISBURGCa	aribbean
July 24—WILLIAM GASTONSouth	Atlantic
July 28-ROBIN GOODFELLOW South	Atlantic
Aug. 7-WILLIAM L. MARCYNortheast
Aug. 8—EZRA WESTONNortheast
Aug. 28-JOHN BARRYRed Sea and Indian	n Ocean
Aug. 30—JACKSONVILLENortheast .
Sept. 29-EDWARD H. CROCKETT. Northeast
Oct. 29—JOHN A. JOHNSON	Pacific
Nov. 2-FORT LEERed Sea and Indian	n Ocean
Nov. 12—LEE S. OVERMANNortheast	Atlantic
Nov. 23—GUS W. DARNELL	Pacific
Nov. 23-WILLIAM D. BURNHAMNortheast .
Dec. 3—FRANCIS ASBURYNortheast .
Dec. 5-ANTOINE SAUGRAIN
Dec. 10-DAN BEARDNortheast .	Atlantic
Dec. 10—WILLIAM S. LADD	Pacific
Dec. 18-STEEL TRAVELERNortheast .	Atlantic
Dec. 25—ROBERT J. WALKER
Dec. 28—HOBART BAKER	Pacific
Dec. 28—JAMES H. BREASTED	Pacific
Dec. 28—JOHN BURKE
Dec. 29-ARTIIUR SEWALLNortheast .
Dec. 29-BLACK HAWKNortheast	Atlantic

Dec.	29—BLACK HAWK	Northeast	Atlantic
194	45
Jan.	4-LEWIS L. DYCHE		Pacific
Jan.	9—JONAS LIE	Northeast	Atlantic
	14-MARTIN VAN BUREN
Feb.	6-HENRY B. PLANT	Northeast	Atlantic
Feb.	6-PETER SILVESTER Red S	ea and India	an Ocean
Feb.	14-HORACE GRAY	Northeast	Atlantic
Feb.	17-THOMAS SCOTT	Northeast	Atlantic
	20-HORACE BUSHNELL
	21-JAMES EAGAN LAYNE.
Mar.	21-JOHN R. PARK	Northeast	Atlantic
Feb.	23-HENRY BACON	Northeast	Atlantic
	23-CHARLES D. McIVER
	26-NASHABA
	28 - OKLAHOMA
Mar.	1-ROBERT L. VANN	Northeast	Atlantic
Mar.	20-THOMAS DONALDSON .	Northeast	Atlantic
Apr.	6-HOBBS VICTORY		Pacific
	6-LOGAN VICTORY
	18-CYRUS H. McCORMICK.
	18—SWIFTSCOUT
	27-CANADA VICTORY
	5—BLACK POINT

(Continued from Page 1)

everywhere is to build up independent and powerful organizations of their own. Only thus can we have unions which will be regarded as worthy and equal partners, and respected as such by the shipowners and governments.

Never can we accept the newfangled notion that the seamen's salvation and future progress can be assured by government and that it is the task of the state to assume functions and powers which solely belong to the maritime industry and its employees bound together in union of their own free will and choice. To do so will invite the very conditions which we have been fighting these last few years in foreign lands with great loss of blood, money and sacrifices. It is for the inalienable rights to be free and to follow our own choice, unhampered by governmental regimentation and interference, that so many of our citizens have given their lives on land and at sea.

However, for the sake of the record and as renewed proof of our desire to be of constructive help in the struggle of our fellow seamen abroad for emancipation and improvement of their condition I should like to call attention to a general statement of policy presented by the SIU to the recent I.L.O. meeting in London. This program, drawn up by President Harry Lundeberg and affirmed and supported by the membership, stated the position with regard to continuous employment and the proposals of the International Seafarers Charter in this respect as follows:

"Certain proposals have been made which we vigorously disagree with and which we will not, under any circumstances, adhere to.

"You propose that each country set up a manpower pool in the appropriate ports. Out of this pool, the men would then receive employment. These pools will be in joint control of the government, operators, and the union. You proposed certain regulations in these pools which in our opinion would take away certain privileges of the seamen's freedom.

"As for the pools themselves, we believe that the question of employment for seamen must be handled through the union hiring offices, completely controlled by the unions. We feel that the seamen, and only the seamen, have the right to determine how this labor should be sold.

"On the Pacific Coast, the seamen have for the past ten years operated and run their own hiring halls, where men have shipped out in rotation system, i.e., the man who is longest ashore, gets the first job. It is run by elected officials, who are responsible directly to the membership, and we have found out that this is the only method and system which is fair; and the men will not, under any circumstances, scrap that for any government controlled or any other form of hiring halls.

"As a matter of fact, the Pacessfully. These were the years tered at all cost.

the men who sailed the ships improved most.

hands of outsiders; so we must emphatically go on record to be opposed to this type of employment for seamen".

Now that the European phase of the war is over and the remaining burden of the war in the Pacific will have to be borne mainly by the American seamen, it is necessary to underline and amplify the previous position. Recent developments in our own country and growing efforts to undermine the position and gains of the American seafarers should make it evident to every clearcific Coast seamen had the same thinking person that the trend type of system during the years toward government regulation 1912 to 1921, and operated suc- and regimentation must be regis-when the unions were strong-| It appears from a study of the est and where the conditions of I.L.O. papers prepared in advance of the July meeting in London that some groups are appar-"We further cannot, as union ently prepared to go along with men, allow a pool to determine proposals leading in that direcwho should be able to go to tino. A proposal of continuous sea and who should not. This employment or whatever it might is certainly only the right of be called, does not lend itself in the union and the men in the our opinion to the protection of union, and we do not care to the seamen's right, gains and leave this vital issue in the privileges. On the contrary, it prepares the ground for national and international regimentation which must react severely against the long-range interests of the seamen themselves. If there ever was a time to cry stop and to reaffirm the policy which has made the SIU great and accustomed to hard struggles, it is now.

A great many arguments may be advanced in support of our contention that continuous employment is a double-edged sword, endangering the rights of the seafarers and interfering with their freedom: Suffice it is to say that a peace-time pool scheme, nationally or internationally, is indefensible and unjustified. Reg-

(Continued on Page 10)

HERE'S WHAT

QUESTION: Do you think it would be a good idea for the SIU to operate its own upgrading school?

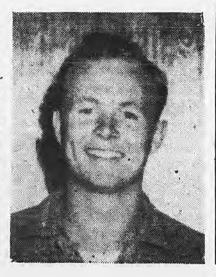

started. An up-grading school going to do our bit now. run by the union would give training to the men while they are on the beach waiting to ship out. It could be held in the hall and in that way a man would not lose his place on the shipping

JOHN DOTY, 2nd Cook and Baker: Anything that brings the trainee close to the sea and actual sea life is a good method of training for the merchant marine. The best kind of an up-grading school for the merchant marine as far as deck and engine departments are concerned, I think, would be a small ship of some kind like the SUP had in Frisco. I started out as a greenhorn and had to learn from what I could pick up at sea, but I think a union school for upgrading would be a fine thing. Every man should want to progress. I am going up for my steward's papers this week.

ship where a man comes on board, gets a pair of dungarees and starts getting his hands dirty pronto. This up-grading school should teach men all kinds of has grown from the 60 members fisherman gets and what the con- ened unemployment insurance wire and rope work, rigging, and brushes. How in hell anyway do issue of its official publication, ket conditions have been created. geared to high speed peacetime so many guys nowadays get the The Union Fisherman, an attracidea that the only thing an AB does is stand a wheel watch or zine, made its appearance with run errands for the mate? A union up-grading school could teach these sailors how many different jobs there are to do on a

J. P. FOLEY, AB-One of the aims of the SIU is to provide good crews and a union-manned up-grading school would help to do this. The strength of the union . lies in education: not only the education of its members in unionism, but also in their profession. If SIU men are the best seamen it will help to get more and better contracts. Just because we have contracts we can't neglect the necessity for furnishing the best seamen. There are plenty of experienced SIU men who could run a good up-grading school, which could be held at the hall.

Vinson Supports AFL Move To Relax Wage Freeze Now

Notes From SIU's Wandering Steward

By "FRENCHY" MICHELET

WILLARD MULLING, AB _ I stream off the Venezulian port of beef aboard has been settled to think this would be a very good Miracabo. When this looked-for the crew's satisfaction. It entailidea. These new ships require event occurs we will naturally be ed a little misunderstanding on good men on deck because they so very busy visiting museums the mate's part as to what conhave plenty of gear which has to and historical shrines and care- stitutes voyage stores. The mate be maintained and repaired. A fully avoiding cat houses and gin contended that the Stewards' lot of fellows think after they get mills that we may not find the stores taken aboard in Philly beout of school and carry seamen's time to do a rank and filer's duty fore we shifted to New York to papers in their hip pocket that of occasionally scribbling some- load were daily stores. they are sailors. They have only thing for our swell Log, so we're aboard-Buck Newman, Johnny (Jake's) formative years and we of Shuler's biscuits. are consequently obliged to unteach him everything that old "Hungry" taught him. It was Shuler who showed Jake how to get enough slices out of a ten pound ham to pave the whole of the fore deck.

t t t

It shouldn't be difficult for the Patrolmen who payoff this scow. The delegates have collected all

A few days more will find the ture of the organization explaingood ship Del Rio lying in the ed to them in detail. The only

The departmental delegates got together with the ship's delegate and threshed the matter out thor- quarterly report to Congress and There's a number of oldtimers oughly. The ship's delegate then the President, stated "we must be got together with the mate and prepared to compensate for se-Glass, Frank Polander, Frank Pe- that worthy was shown the light. vere declines in take-home pay." tronne, Dominick Vaszquez and This was a creditable piece of He explained in a news confer-Jake Martin. Jake is an expert work on the part of the ship's ence he meant increases in wage butcher, but he had the misfor-delegate (Buck Newman), for the rates above Little Steel formula tune to sail with Shuler in his mate has a head as hard as one limits.

> t t t moments:

"Here's to the light that lies In woman's eyes, And lies and lies and lies."

* * * P.S.: By Buck Newman-(Shuler, please note)

The only beef on this scow is the books and checked the month that Frenchy sticks his head in up to which the member wishes the messroom port hole at every to pay. Trip card men have been meal and holds up one finger and given a little union know-how tells the messman, "Give 'em all and have had the financial struc- the pork chop that they can eat."

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Announcing that wage controls will be relaxed to make up for loss of wartime pay advantages, War Mobilization Director Vinson disclosed reconversion plans calling for positive government action to "prevent depression from coming to us as the guest of peace."

High wages, lower taxes, unemployment compensation and public works form the backbone of the program in which Mr. Vinson outlined a heavy role for government rather than a policy of "letting things go" as necessary to assure smooth national transition to a peacetime life.

Mr. Vinson, making public his

Making clear the official government position on substandard Have a toast for those lighter pay issues, Mr. Vinson asked Congress to raise the statutory minimum wage from 40 cents to "at least 50 cents an hour, with provision for further permissive increase to a higher level by the industry committees" provided for in the Fair Labor Standards

> In stressing the necessity for granting wage rate relief for workers when high-pay war jobs dwindle, Mr. Vinson declared that savings to employers, resulting from reduction of overtime premiums, downgrading of jobs and increased manufacturing efficiency, "would permit some rise in wages without a compensating rise in prices."

In event of early collapse of Japan, which some industrialists have said would bring us close to One of the youngest affiliates dropped to 65 cents a pound. economic disaster, the mobilizaof the SIU is the Gulf Coast Dis- However, as Brother Biggs points tion chief indicated that a great trict Fisherman's Union, which out, the spread between what the public works program and broadit had 16 months ago to more sumer pays is so great that the would have to carry most of the suspicion arises that black mar- load, until industry could be re-Now that the fishermen are re- operation. He said present plans ceiving the highest prices ever for a postwar works program paid them, they have been able must be enlarged and blueprint-

The Vinson program was included in his lengthy quarterly report titled, "The Road to Tokyo Treasurer E. M. Biggs tells of the tion to which the union has and Beyond." Tone of the report substandard conditions under raised them: "Just bought two was that the government has a which fishermen worked but two new nets," says one. "I have responsibility to guide the nation in reconverting to peace, just as it had in gearing for war.

SIU Fishermen Establish PAUL SHARPE, Bos'n - My idea of an up-grading school is a Monthly Union Magazine than 6,000. This month the first tive 24 page slick paper magainformative articles of interest to them by dealers miles from the sea with a "take-it-or-dump-thefish" finality-and how the union men's return.

Brother Biggs relates how the men getting 8 cents a pound for fishdealers of a cut to 6 cents a pound, with another cut to 4 cents probable in another weekthis at a time when the retail Tarpon Springs, Florida, area. price for groupers was 69 cents a thye are now receiving 12 cents a what the job entails, and knows pound, while the retail price has that it can do it.

to get out of the economic serf- ing speeded. fishermen and shoreside workers dom that was their lot. Statements from members of the vari-In the lead article Secretary- ous locals attest to the new posiyears ago-with prices dictated to bought a new motor," says another. "I see that Jack got himself a new pair of shoes."

The GCDFU is a lusty baby succeeded in raising the fisher- and is growing rapidly. The field for expansion is large, and the union is going after it in a big way, not only among fishermen, groupers were notified by the but in allied fields. After months of hard work, the union has succeeded in organizing several hundred sponge fishermen in the

The field is a large one, but the progressive, militant GCDFU has Since the fishermen organized, no fears on that score. It knows

HIPS' MINUTES AND NEV

Mate Pays Ship's Expenses Out Of His Own Pocket

The Jonathan Grout, Mississippi Liberty that was among the Kamikaze. first of this type launched back in '42, arrived in New York last last October, the ship went to the awa when the Davie was unloadweek with a mate who, accord- West Coast in ballast and then ing. The anchorage had been ing to the crew, must have been after loading in Oakland sailed alerted for an air raid and the trying to buy an interest in the for Guam. company.

Several times during the two months' trip he offered to pay the overtime out of his own pocket, if the men who did the work would not enter it on their overmen told the mate his tender solicitude for the company didn't they were concerned his generos ity was useless.

crying the blues to their mates, of the island. and telling them that profits have dropped to 200 per cert!

William R. Davie Right In Thick Of Okinawa Fighting

Davie, South Atlantic Liberty.

Just back from a long trip in high. the Pacific which included Okinthis voyage to the land of the hit by a suicide plane.

Here she unloaded and returned to Pearl Harbor, picking up another load there for Okinawa, where she arrived on D Day plus 14. This, however, didn't mean that the Davie had an easy time time sheets. Needless to say, the of it, for the Okinawa fighting was tough right up to the last.

At Okinawa the Davie's crew effect them one bit and as far us saw plenty of Jap Kamikaze (suicide) planes, and the gunners shot down one of them by 20 On another occasion this mate millimeter fire off Haha. The Dair sisted on paying for a puddin' vie, according to Phil Adelman, spar that fell overboard in rough Oiler, and Cecil Keane, Bos'n, was weather. Maybe Mississippi is the first ship on the eastern side

During the 22 days that the Davie laid at anchor at various Delegates on the Grout were places along Okinawa, she went Nobel Petersen, AB; W. T. Fagan, through 76 air raids, besides at-Oiler; and Mike McCowine, Mess-tacks on the convoys by suicide boats, small sixteen foot craft signal corps men as caretakers.

Add to the list of fighting SIU loaded to the gunwales with exships the name of the William R. plosives. One of these boats hit a Navy Liberty, blowing her sky

The Canada Victory, whose loss awa, several of the Davie's crew has been announced by the Navy stopped in the hall and told about was near the Davie when she was Most thrilling incident of the After signing on in New York trip occurred one night off Okinships were in total black out under a smoke screen. Finally the Japs came over and, baffled by the haze thrown up by the smoke pots, couldn't find their targets. One kamikaze, however, seemed to spot the Davie and circled around above her for severa! one time when this Jap came over about 100 feet above the masts, either gathering up his courage or to try to spot a good place to land his TNT, someone pushed the wrong switch on the Davie and lit up the cargo lights on number four hatch. Luckily, the Jap was hit just then by a destroyer and blown to pieces or the Davie might have been among the missing.

> Part of the Davie's cargo were riding their ships. 2500 carrier pigeons, with a few

SS J. Dinland

icluding an American Liberty, in last week.

ship hit a mine.

PHIL ADELMAN

CECIL KEANE

around above her for several Serious Accident Narrowly Averted By SS Mesa Verde

Brother Frank Lovell was int the hall the other day after making a trip on the Deaconhill tanker, Mesa Verde. Deaconhill says Lovell, has one of the best contracts to be found anywhere and no one will go wrong by

While the Mesa Verde was laying loaded in the Hudson, an old rust bucket came along and smacked her in the stern, denting the fan tail and carrying away a piece of the after railing. Being With maggots in the potatoes smacked like this is no joke when and weevils in the flour, it was, you are sitting atop a load of high literally and figuratively, no pictest gas, so the deck hands rignic for the crew of the J. Dinland, Eastern Liberty that pulled ged fire hoses, the navy gunners stood by to throw the ammunition overboard, and a couple of some firing practice at mines seen After living on rations for two company watchmen on board ran floating in the Mediterranean. months, the men were glad to around shouting for life jackets. get back to New York, where But the other ship got its anchor they can get seconds at meal chain fouled up with the Mesa time and make up for some lost Verde, thus averting a second On the way over three ships, crash that might have caused a paradise."

catastrophe. Lovell reports a good crew and were lost in submarine action about sixty miles off Brest. On good officers on this trip, with a the way across the channel on a young chief whom everyone was shuttle trip to Ghent, another mistaking for the yeoman when they first came on board.

Black Sea Is

A ship whose popularity helped to get a full crew almost as soon as her name went on the board last week was the R. Jones, Overlakes Liberty.

Sailors' Heaven

All hands liked this scow and reported a fine trip to Black Sea ports. Only minor beefs remained at the payoff, thanks to good work of the delegates and, being crewed up with a 100% full-book crew, there were no beefs about free loaders.

Only event of the trip was

Says steward department delegate, A. Knoles, "I recommend the Black Sea to all brothers wanting to ship. It's a sailor's

Patrolman Restores Toaster To Crew

When the Patrolman went on board to pay off the William J. Palmer, he was told that the officers had appropriated the toaster from the crew's mess and were having toasted sandwiches for their night lunch. This kind of hurt, as this toaster had been put on board only because of previous action by the crew.

But things were soon squared away. The Patrolman took the toaster out of the saloon, and told the officers if they wanted a toaster to use some action themselves, and put it back in the crew's mess.

Other beefs on the Palmer included a demand for fumigation of the ship and repairs to galley equipment.

Delegates for the trip were John Parker, AB; Carol Ross, FWT; and C. B. Arms, Chief Cook.

Dutch Treat Is On The House

Are the Dutch glad to see the Yanks?

Just ask the crew of the William Paca, Calmar Liberty which came back from Holland last reach Rotterdam after the port a "swell Steward." American flags.

The Paca made it back from Rotterdam in 12 days, with her engine turning over 89 revolutions part of the time.

Larry Bartlett, OS, who made his third trip on this vessel, reweek. One of the first ships to ported a good feeding ship with was reopened, the Paca was met Delegates were Earl Stimson.

by a motor launch with a depu- FWT; Arlie Dudley, 3rd Cook; tation of the town officials wel- and Charley Roberts, AB. Charcoming them to Holland, and lie Collins, who could write a then at the pier by what ap- book about his experiences durpeared to be half of the city, ing three months on the beach cheering and waving Dutch and over in Persia, was Bosun on this room while you are asleep is bad injured and another killed. enough, but to have a jagged piece of steel tear off the seat of your pants as you make a hasty exit is adding insult to injury.

Farce And Tragedy On Caldwell

Such was the unfortunate experience of the Steward on the James Caldwell, when that inbound Liberty was rammed last week by the British freighter Bapanui off Norton's Point in Gravesend Bay. The bow of the limey freighter tore a thirty foot hole in the Caldwell's port side.

the Papanui hit them. Tragedy the trip were Albert Weber, AB; occurred in the gunner's mess, William Vanicky, Oiler; and

To have a ship smash into your caught in the crash, one severely

Telling about the incident in the New York hall the other day were Ed Harrison, FWT; James Redman, Cook; Kenneth Myers. Messman; Henry Martin, BR; and Estle Walker, Chief Cook.

SS TALISMAN

Restriction of the crew when the ship was at Marseilles irked the boys on the last trip of the Looking out of the port in the Talisman, Mississippi C-2, but no crew's mess at breakfast time one amount of argument could change of the wipers saw the oncoming the mind of the army authorities ship and enabled the men there and the crew watched this town to escape a second or two before from the stream. Delegates for however, where two soldiers were Nicholas Nomicos, 2nd Cook.

Brother George Fossett, FWT, got a standby job on the Elijah Bartlett when she was in port last time, and then tried like hell to get off her before she sailed. He even thought up a sad tale for the commissioner, but he couldn't get off the articles.

Back in port again, George says he is glad he made the trip, for the Bartlett was a swell ship, with a steward, deck and engine gang that were all okay. Best of all, he says, she was a good feeding ship.

MEMBERSHIP SPEAK

Commissars And Chiselling Rights Of Members Shipowners Irk Union Mate

packet was sailing under the "Red Flag of the NMU" and, needless to say, it was complete with political commissions and a special library for the education and enlightenment of the ignorant masses.

The political commissars were right on the ball, graduates of the commie leadership school, and were quite conversant with Roberts Rules of Order. The net result was that they ran the show, and any of the crew who had the guts to buck them were immediately ruled out of order. This left the floor for the commissars to use in disseminating the NMU brand of communism and world revolution. The pitiful thing is that the other boys were not and thus were fed on the approved NMU diet of communism.

It is quite apparent that these Super-Militant Leaders of Labor are trained to be agitators and let some little OS come up with the beefs. Wherever possible, they bring up the battle cry of "Racial way, when they want an easy way out. These commissars created more ill-feeling between the colored boys and the white boys than I ever saw on a ship before. than any one else, as they realize that this phony communist propaganda is really hurting the cause of the colored people.

This constant nonsense also stirs up anti-NMU feeling amidships.

Maybe some day the NMU boys

I just signed off a ship on will realize that the course they which I was first mate. This are steering will land them in shoal water.

> So much for the union front. Now for a few words on recent maneuvers by the companies, and this one has really started. I had the port captain down checking overtime with me and it was all okay, but "too much." The captain and I were then given a little talk on the postwar period, primarily on the elimination of overtime.

I was informed that this company expected the mate to get out and supervise the deck work on his own time, and also to lay awake nights figuring ways to chisel a few nickels from the

While it must be remembered that the sole purpose of overtime smart enough to out-maneuver is to eliminate all work in excess the commissars at the meetings, of the eight hour day, with the bonus cut overtime becomes part of the take-home pay. So, brothers, stand by to clear the decks for bucko mates and skippers in the postwar period, but don't look for me.

On my last two or three ships, the slop chest prices have been Discrimination" whether it is damn high, and I believe the warranted or not. Every NMU membership could do well to beef sooner or later ends up that start a little fire in the right place, and bring prices down where they belong. It is obvious that the seaman is geting chiselled again.

I think that will be all for I believe it is safe to say that the now, but keep your union going colored boys resented it more and keep it strong in the American way. We do not need Stalin to run America. If you ever lose your union, you and your family are sure going to lose your bread and butter.

> "Through The Hawse Pipe" No. 19224 (retired)

While In U.S. Army

Just a word to let you know that I will not be back to ship out, as I am now in the army as a "selective volunteer." I have paid my dues up and I would like to know when I come back after the war if I can ship out again through the SIU and continue going to sea.

I want to thank the union for everything it did for me, and hope other boys out of maritime school find the SIU as cooperative as I did.

JAMES A. DONOVAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: You surely can. Any member of the SIU going into the armed forces is relieved from paying dues from the day he enters to the day he returns. Since you are in good standing now, you will be when you come back. Meanwhile, good luck, Brother Donovan, and a speedy return.

Hails Disappearance Of SIU Sectionalism

It's good to see that the growth in the SIU since the war. The behave themselves as union seainflux of men from all over the men. country, indeed from all over the world, has greatly overcome the

I remember when a Yankee coming down to ship out in the Gulf was treated like an unwashed headhunter fresh out of the bush; and if a Baldwin County citizen arrived in New York he was considered to be just a dumb grits-and-red beans boy who wasn't capable of walking down the street by himself.

We brand ourselves an International Union. How idiotic, then, to judge a man by sectional lines. What does it matter where a man is from as long as he can produce?

welcome any former cow hand, operated at government expense, dirt farmer or dish washer, but under control of the Deconhas taken up the sea as a profession and proves he can be a good seaman and a good union

PERRY J. ROBERTS

Asks Even Bigger Log

You have no idea how much better it makes me feel to see the Log increased in size, as well as improved in quality. Honest to Henry it used to make me feel ashamed everytime I saw that single sheet that we called our "paper." Keep up the good work, and try like hell to put just one more double sheet in that rag and we'll have the best damned paper in the field.

NMU Turns On Men Who Built It

The NMU, the once strong rank the blood and strife of honest a good boy. rank and filers, has now turned it. I am one of them myself and, have "overlooked" it. Instead of disgusted with the way this union is being taken over by people who aren't interested in the seaman, I turned to a rank and file outfit like the SIU.

As it is now in the NMU, you have to be a "yes man" to every official, and you are a great guy as long as you don't bring in a beef to be settled. Before settling beefs they are more interested in seeing if you have your dues paid up in advance. If you have a beef, you are patted on the

Delegates' Duties

It has been in my mind for a long time to set forth my ideas of several important obligations of ship delegates:

A delegate should be elected by the entire department. Very often they are appointed by some friend and no one else has a chance to be elected to this important job.

A delegate should turn in the and vast increase of membership book numbers of men who do not

A delegate should listen to all to hamstring the efforts of the the ones that he feels like push-

GEORGE A. THORNHILL

and file union that was built on back and told to run along like

If you come back again to see against these very men that built about your beef you find they

VINCENT J. KELLER

taking it up, some commissar takes you by the arm and has you sign a bunch of letters to Congress, although you have no idea what the hell it is all about.

Joe Stack thinks he is a combination of Stalin and Napoleon, and hates to hear the word 'beef."

The NMU has lost the fighting drive that made many militant oldtimers believe it had what the seamen needed. It is a front new the beefs that the crew brings to for outside interests who are usold narrow sectionalism that used him, and not just take action on ing the NMU and rank and tile seamen for their own advantage.

> VINCENT J. KELLER. former No. 9543 NMU

Shipowners Preparing For Postwar Drive On Unions

it is evident that the ship oper- fees." ators are tightening up on overtime and conditions. This was especially noticeable the last trip I made in the Atlantic.

The ship was a new T-2 tank-I'm an oldtimer, but I will er, the SS Mesa Verde, built and agent since offices are maintained only on the West Coast.

The SIU-SUP contract for these west coast tankers is in many respects a model contract. Unlike many others, this contract is specific as to what work is overtime. The ship operators signed the contract in order to guarantee a supply of qualified men during the war and the WSA approved it.

All wages on these ships are paid by the WSA. The ship operator runs no risk in the operation of the vessel. He invested no money in construction of the ship, lays out nothing for its maintainance, and has no worries about wages. His only concern is keeping the books straight so as to W. E. WYMAN know how much is coming his

As war draws nearer to an end way in the form of "operator's

The WSA is now issuing more and more orders, specifying exactly what overtime work shall be paid for. Often these orders conflict with the provisions of the union agreement. Random examples of such conflicts is the WSA order that no penalty meal hours will be paid for. Similarly, an order has come down to cut out all overtime for men on watch, regardless of what they are asked to do. Carpenter work has been ordered cut out. Even though the contracts call for overtime for all such work, the operators have a pat answer when you try to collect it: "The WSA has disapproved."

This is becoming a stock phrase that we are going to hear a lot. The ship operators have packed the government agencies with their stooges and are now primed to use these government agencies as the spearhead of their postwar drive against our unions and the conditions we have won.

> FRANK LOVELL, AB SUP No. 3265

Laws Protect Unorganized Men Who Want To Join Union

front and coming in contact with ganized seamen whenever you the unorganized seamen off the meet them. Tell them that labor whether he's from Kokomo or the hill outfit. While on this coast Isthmian ships, the American laws protect them in their desire Louisiana swamps, as long as he the skipper acted as company Trading Co., and other independ- for union representation, and if ent outfits, a fellow can't help they are discriminated against at but notice the cleancut type of any time by the company the men riding these scows.

They all understand what union conditions would mean for would gladly see their ships organized under the SIU. The big handicap, however, is that these men are told in the company hiring offices that they should not talk to anyone about unions, and that they should not sign any union pledge cards.

Consequently these men are afraid to cooperate with any union organizers for fear of being black-listed although they want them all under the Seafarers banto see the organizing job done.

The answer to this is for all

In working around the water-¡Seafarers men to talk to unor-Seafarers will stand by them and fight the issue for them. This the SIU did on the west coast in the them and almost all of these men case of Johnny Hansen, when he was fired by Standard Oil of California for union activity. The Seafarers won this beef, Hansen was proven right and Standard paid through the nose and liked

Wherever you see men off the unorganized ships, in Rio, London, Cape Town, tell them about their rights and their opportunity under the SIU. Let's bring

BULL SHEPPARD

Recent Strikes Win For Unions In Most Cases, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON (LPA) -Strikes took a downward turn during the past week, as thousands of workers returned to their jobs, in most cases winning complete or partial victory on the issues which brought them out on the picket line.

As a result newspapers had good reasons to cry the blues. The great "strike wave", which they had been inflating for weeks, went into ebb tide, leaving little to justify scare headlines.

During the week, 15,000 workers marched back into shipyards on the Gulf and west coast, after short-lived stoppages. Nearly 10,-000 miners in Illinois-members of both the Progressive Mine Workers-AFL and United Mine Workers union-returned to their jobs after winning a "no meatno work" strike. Their protest they have in the past, to include of unsettled grievances in the inthe miners.

Printing trades unions called off a six-week strike that had may occur, it was predicted.

"Thirty" was written also on one of the bitterest of the recent strikes, the 21/2 week walkout of the metropolis a news "famine".

Union leaders claimed a victory in the terms upon which they returned. They were given assurance by the War Labor Board's Printing and Publishing Commission on two vital points: (1) that all of their demands, infare fund" issue if a settlement publishers remain adamant on could not be reached.

The union had demanded a 3 percent payroll contribution by the newspapers to the fund, which would be jointly administered by management and labor, and which would be used to pay sick benefits, old age pensions and similar benefits.

Management had refused to negotiate on that and other issues, and rejected a proposal for arbitration. Under the settlement, however, the newspapers agreed to direct negotiations on some of the issues, including the welfare fund, and the WLB's Printing Commission began hearings on remaining points. Ultimate arbitration of disputed points is anticipated, either by agreement of both sides, or by an order of the commission.

While these and other strikes were settled during the week, others kept breaking out - most of them due to stiffening and arbitrary attitudes by management against prompt settlement of workers' grievances.

One of the toughest of the curternational Typographical Union, ecutive board after extensive diswhich at this writing has closed cussion voted last week to condown seven daily newspapers in tinue its no-strike pledge, but four cities - Birmingham, Ala.; only until the end of the war Fort Wayne, Ind.; Jersey City, with Japan. When that day N. J. and Bayonne, N. J.—with comes, UAW president R. J. papers in other cities next in

At stake is the ITU's demand walkout wrung from the OPA a in their contracts with the union promise of extra red points for a commitment to observe the union's laws, as revised at each annual convention.

This year, many leading pubcrippled operations in R. R. Don- lishers have combined to resist nelley & Sons, notorious anti- the demand, claiming that at the union Chicago printery, where last convention, certain provispart of the output of Time, Life ions were added to the laws-reand other national magazines is lating to arbitration, overtime produced. The fight of the unions pay, vacations and other itemsfor a "closed shop" shifted to the which should be passed upon by bargaining table, but if a new collective bargaining. The pubdeadlock develops another strike lishers charged the union was trying to put over changed working conditions by "unilateral action."

1700 delivery men, members of president of the "Typos," hit the an independent union, which had publishers' claim as a smokeparalyzed distribution of New screen to cover up a campaign York City's big dailies and caused aimed at smashing the union's laws, weakening the "closed shop," and breaking down conditions which had prevailed for decades.

Union, laid down by the WLB afcommission would consider or- ish" and will close down newspadering arbitration on the "wel- pers all over the country if the of work. the question of accepting the union's laws.

Thomas asserted that he would begin to authorize strikes of auto will be plenty of them" he warnthat the publishers continue, as ed, because of the great backlog UNION'S OK, VET SAYS

"I was a union member before I went into the service, and I'm and aircraft workers, and "there going back to the union," says Pvt. Chet Horton. "We got $9 to $15 a day when non-union fellows were getting $5 and $6." Entertaining him at Madigan General Hospital, Tacoma, Wash., are Cleo Garl and Berneal Myers, Local 751, International Association of Mach-(Federated Pictures)

PERIOD OF LABOR UNREST

By FREDDIE STEWART

Strike season is definitely here. | conditions were favorable. Mass picketing, sit downs, walkouts, all point to the end of the Labor - Management honeymoon. But the question is asked again and again, why? Last week I read a book entitled "When Labor Organizes" by a Professor Brooks, and published by Yale University. However, Woodruff Randolph, He had some good thoughts on rather than a sixty hour week pens to him at the end of the tenthe subject and I'd like to pre- basis, if a sufficiently long period year period, while management sent some of them.

primary demand, according to rates, rapid labor turnover, ten- is incapable of maintaining the Brooks. Union demands will rep- dencies toward exhausting de- required speed of hours of work resent an attempt to force em- bauches, and acute industrial un- he is eliminated from industry ployers to regularize production rest. Despite reprisals against the sufficiently to render overtime work unnecessary. Back of this is march together. Union leaders munity. ter the ITU refused to call off its the desire, first, to distribute have learned by experience, how- Fear of unemployment is the which results from irregular hours labor's interests may demand re- of labor.

The second major policy of the labor movement has been to shorten hours of work. Unions Meeting in Minneapolis, the have subsequently made efforts to United Auto Workers-CIO ex-secure wage increases as soon as bearing on union policy has been go. the belief that reduction of working hours might be a cause as well as a result of reductions in production, but from the viewthe cost of productions. Workers point of lifetime cost of produchave long felt what scientific tion. Here the question of the management has begun to dis-hours becomes inseparable from close, that more work may ac- that of the speed of work. The tually be turned out on a forty, worker is interested in what hapis taken into account. Accumu- may no longer be greatly conlated fatigue reduces speed and cerned with that problem. If at Equal work for equal pay, is a causes spoilage, high accident the end of ten years the worker duction of hours below the point Another economic consideration which management is willing to

Labor looks at hours not only the viewpoint of monthly cost of and becomes in some measure a Management and labor may burden upon his family or com-strikes-and from which labor work among as many people as ever, that intense pressure from basic reason for forms of restriccluding a proposed "welfare members of the board dissented possible; second to protect union a well-organized labor group is tions. Wherever fear of unemfund", would be considered on -Randolph made it clear that the members as human beings from very often necessary to compel ployment is strong there are dual their merits, and (2) that the union is in this fight "to the fin- the disturbance to social relations attention to this matter and that and opposed attitudes on the part

"Picketline" For Baltimore

By WM. McKAY

BALTIMORE, July 19-Any re-|the practice. port in the Pilot to the effect that There are no SIU men on the the doctor. picket line and there won't be their pals on 14th Street.

The unions are usually blamed SIU members are picketing the for delaying ships when it takes WSA in Baltimore is pure crap. a man at least 2 to 3 hours to pass

We finally put a crew aboard until the membership decide that the new SS Venore and of course there is something to be gained they waited until the last minute for the benefit of all seamen. SIU before calling for the crew. She representatives in Washington is sailing for South America and are taking care of the bonus beef no question about it, she is a and are in there keeping an eye beautiful job. Her quarters come on the basic wage rates. The close to being 100 percent right NMU picket line was a publicity and unless they start lousing her stunt for the NMU. You can de- up with poor grub and cheap suppend upon it the NMU will do plies she should be a good all nothing to hurt the feelings of around job.

Shipping is a little spotty at We have contacted the WSA this moment but due to pick up doctors here about the numerous and we have a couple more new questions that are asked the sea- ones scheduled for crews soon. men when taking the physical The Victories going out of here examination. Most of these ques- are headed for other ports for tions have nothing to do with the conversion to troop ships. Some man's physical condition and we talk here about coastal and interhope to have them eliminated. coastal shipping getting going Pete De Catte of the SUP and soon but at the present low bonus Jim Gormley of the MFOW also rate such ships will be difficult

LABOR COMPETITION

When AFL and CIO competed in St. Louis, winners and losers amicably shared the rewards. It was at the Quiz of Two Cities radio program where the victorious visitors were members of United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers (CIO) and St. Louis was representrent walkouts is that of the In- ed by Intl. Assn. of Machinists (AFL). (Federated Pictures) registered a strong protest against to crew up.

AROUND THE PORTS W. Wall William

WSA Again Fouls Up Details

By ARTHUR THOMPSON

ped out. No ships were paid off, would like to get our men out creased to 42 members. We are still waiting for the SS Bellringer, which was supposed to be de- and for Savannah that's a lot, and livered on May 15, 1945. It's only this does not include the men 67 days overdue now, so we may available but who still have a few have a few more weeks to wait. weeks before they must ship out The Smith Victory is still in dry again. dock being converted. It won't be ready for at least another as Gamble died about a week ago month.

Last Wednesday the WSA called me and asked how many men I had on our shipping lists. I told them, and they said they would call me at eleven the next morning and let me know whether or not they could send our surplus members to New York or a west coast port. At the meeting that night I reported this to the members and advised those who wished to ship out to be at the hall at eleven A.M. the following morning. There were quite a few around the hall the next morning, and I called the WSA at eleven to find out what the score was. They, in their usual slipshod manner, were still waiting for information from New York, and said they would call again at three o'clock. Some of the boys were tired of waiting and they gave it up as a bum steer. At three that day the WSA called again and said they could take any of our men who had a rating above OS, Wiper or Messman. By this time I only had a few who would wait and they told us they would not take less than ten. Now book says: "Mess" was originally ed it. If you don't know, look it

SAVANNAH - This week was | get out and the WSA won't take one of the slowest we've ever had, them. Personally I don't like this Only one replacement was ship- WSA business at all, but we and our shipping lists have in- and if something doesn't come in soon we'll be swamped with men. We have 42 on our shipping lists

LOCAL ITEMS: Mayor Thomwhile on a vacation in Tennessee. A piece in the local paper boasting of the fact that the Savannah Fire Department had not been called out for a fire for a week. The probable explanation is that it has rained every day for the past two weeks and a fire couldn't make any headway. No new hospital cases to report in Savannah although Brother Peterman is still a patient.

Here's another piece of information you can take for what it's worth. A word often used aboard ship is "mess." Here's what the

we have about six who want to derived from the Latin word up or ask any old timer.

DEADLINE!

Several ports sent in news this week which arrived too late to make the LOG. All Branch Agents should see that their reports reach the office of the Editor by Tuesday morning of each week. If possible, mail copy on Saturday so that the LOG receives it on Monday.

Another Bucko Bites The Dust

By E. S. HIGDON

NEW ORLEANS-On the 12th voyage of the SS James Miller. the oxtail didn't suit the captain nor the chief engineer. On the 13th voyage, every goddam thing in the stewards department was wrong. I Sore because the cook wasn't specialized in "fawncy cuisine" to the extent that the meat on the oxtail peeled off evenly, the captain fired the stewards department and was forced to take it back with sufficient evidence for firing was not produced. Sore again because he had the crew he'd fired, Captain 'Bligh" set up his constant watch for things slightly out of line.

He watched, he checked and he tallied and finally lodged the following charges against Robert

I asked the captain and the HOSPITAL SLIP? WHY?

Carl Ellis, Steward. "1. No night lunches served." The captain was careful not to disclose the fact that the chief engineer had repeatedly refused to raise the temperature of the ice box, thereby causing 350 pounds of meat to spoil and to be thrown away.

"2. The passageway was dirty." This was an open and shut case of manufacturing a charge. As it happens, the SS James Miller had been in port-the water had been turned off and rationed; she put to sea again-water was turned on and two hours later an inspection was called. Up to the passageway dashed the captain with his mouth drooling - "Ah-ha, filth and dirt, me hearties." He had 'em. There had not been time to clean the passageway since setting sail.

The next charge was: "3. Improper stowing of dirty linen." Twenty-four hours overtime was put in and okayed for such work -but still claimed the buckeroo skipper "the men throw their dirty linen down the ladder." Shame-naughty, naughty, seamen. We must learn to be a little neater.

To cap the whole thing off charges against Ellis; Bob Dunbar, MM; John J. Zinzel, 2nd cook; Joseph Gagliano, MM, were logged for going ashore without permission. So the Coast Guard heard the case-gave the men two months' "suspended suspension." The SS Co. removed the captain and the chief engineer and agreed to pay overtime for the week end the Miller spent in the mouth of the Mississippi.

Warning: A couple of guys from the USS were in the office this week trying to sell us on the great benefits of their organization. Why, they give dances for the seamen, they furnish a loan service - and they obligate the

The USS is holding out one them, for you will be shy a pair, news from this port, I will now hand with a good strong shake. Behind the scenes, the other hand has a couple of crossed fingers. the past week, but now it looks The "little angels" who came visiting tell us that SIU members frequent their dances and come to the USS for help, and now that fink organization wants us to give referral slips to the seamen so that they may receive loans. Just like the old Shipping Board-a new Doghouse idea-USS joins the ranks of charity halls. Keep away from them. These damn places must be knocked out of the picture-what good are they doing when they keep the men from relying on themselves?

If you don't think so then come you newer members should know White. If you don't know him, let the N. Y. hall will let you have obvious as all hell but is positive- down and talk to a few of the

Coast Guard Is Getting Tough

By D. L. PARKER

TAMPA - Shipping here in called down and it seemed that Tampa has picked up quite a bit they were in accord with the capin the past five weeks. Although tain. we don't take in a hell of a lot of cabbage, we manage to exist. CG officer if they would assume We will have about five ships out the responsibility of taking these between now and the 10th of two men to sea, but they balked August, and our shipping list is almost blank, so if any of you brothers want to take out a small but fast scow come on down.

Had the MV Sankty Head in this past week and had quite a bit of trouble with the captain and CG. The old man wanted to put out to sea with two sick men aboard. The Coast Guard was meaning "to send" and came to mean a portion of food sent or 'mess of pottage." Subsequently, it meant a dish sent up for sevnow used in the Army or Navy Mess and in the Merchant Marmeant what Noah Webster call-served up, as in the Biblical eral people and then the people themselves, in the sense that is men involved a certificate to go ine. Of course, in pre-SIU days "mess" in the Merchant Marine at that. Then they gave the two to the hospital, and it was found that one of the boys had appendicitis and the other one stomach trouble. The captain filed charges against Brother John Prescott. The trial was held then and there, with the result that he came clear. That was a very poor policy on the part of the captain.

Publicity Stunt Ends Houston Reports

By GULF REPORTER

HOUSTON-Seeing as how the It is really funny-I have heard teeth. So, boys, don't let your editor and the membership in the false teeth lay around the hall last New York meeting have me men for postwar times. where Steely White can get at on the pan for not sending in or even a half pair. Now, now, do so.

> We have been fairly busy for as though it will slow down for But coming back to the SIU: a bit. The sturdy Beggar, a Mis-

> > The beefs on this wagon were settled SIU style-at the point of production to the crew's satisfaction-for around three hundred

The NMU removed their soly disgusting to all seamen—and NMU men in this port.

WATCH FOR VIOLATION OF UNION SHIPPING RULES By W. PAUL GONSORCHIK NEW YORK - Shipping has come to eventually; so see to it Steely is a great guy, but has a been very good with fifteen hun- that you make it your business to bad habit that the doctors haven't dred members shipped these last put a stop to that sort of practice cured him of as yet: He is a Kleptomaniac specializing in false few weeks, and probably will aboard these ships. continue to be so. We have also of the deck and engine depart- squawking about certain memments to Mobile, for three T-2 bers who promote themselves to tankers.

We dispatchers here in N. Y. are being confronted with a certain situation, and the members' cooperation is of the greatest importance to settle it. Probably the situation is not quite deliberate, at least we like to think so. Most the policy of the SIU and if he new members don't quite under- refuses you can always bring The oldtimers are more than stand the policy or the shipping that member up on charges. As rules we have in the SIU. We you and I know, there are quite are having quite a few rated engine members taking jobs out of weeks for that particular job. So by now understand the SIU and the hall as wipers, and then see to it yourselves aboard ship what it stands for. Make the called "picket line" from the aboard the ship, when there's an that the union rules are followed unionism of the SIU a daily topic WSA here. Don't know whether opening, they promote themselves for the protection of all. to the vacated rated jobs.

sent about twenty eight members quite a few of you members higher jobs from Wiper, O.S. and Messman. And what did you do? Nothing but squawk.

> While you are on the ship, the ship delegate should be notified and he in turn should tell that particular individual that is not a few members that were waiting

That, boys, is in direct viola- someone was at my back, and to old members. The Educational don't really give a damn as this especially to their own men. tion with the shipping rules, and my great surprise it was Steely Department on the fifth floor of latest gag of theirs is not only and understand what this will me put you wise. Mind you, all the material you need.

that wee lil' son of yours on you, and he'll beat the hell out of you. It wouldn't harm any of the sissippi scow, paid off here yesmembers to study the shipping terday and we shipped a full crew rules, contracts and constitution to her. and everything about your union. happy to help out the new members. Those members that have been in for several years, should hours. of discussion aboard the ships, for they've decided to quit their pub-

Steely, don't get sore, or I'll tell

The other day I sensed that it will prove helpful to new and licity stunt for good or not, and

ILO London Maritime Conference

(Continued from Page 4) the part of the governments and on the subject it is worthwhile to continue to do so in the future. shipowners, not to speak of the recall the experience of the SIU harm that is bound to result to the unions as democratic instruments chosen freely by the sea- wartime. men for the defense and enhancement of their economic interests.

preserve the free and democratic character of our organizations. We will not and cannot permit that any restriction whatever be This was done through the Anplaced upon the right of the sea- drew Furuseth School of seaman- ing program should be determan to choose his work, to sell ship and the union-operated mined and operated solely by the his labor at greatest advantage training ship, the Invader, a 136 unions. The operators, with whom and to fight for further improvement shoulder to shoulder with his fellow workers, regardless of nickel steel construction, with a government policies and regula- draft of 13 feet 6 inches. Accordtions. Above all, we must beware ing to the SUP annual report of of a trend that will reduce the December, 1943, 8000 men had union to a minor partner in a government - employer scheme and thus rob our organizations of we practically doubled this fig the very right to exist.

the I.L.O. papers are worthy of is being continued. The results of the Amercian Seamen and the discussion. However, since our po- have been highly praised by sition has been made clear in steamship operators and seamen principle we feel that we can alike. The only ones that don't dispense with technical details.

Somewhat similar objections apply to the proposals on entry and training. There, too, it should be kept in mind that - in the words of Andrew Furuseth and the above-mentioned union statement of policy-"seamen are not made on shore, regardless of what the theories of certain people are."

However, leaving aside the details and technicalities raised with regard to entry and training, I should like to quote from the opening paragraph of the I.L.O. paper on entry, submitted to the July meeting. This statement sums up the position of our union as well and comprehensive as any outsider can.

"In normal conditions a man who is not definitely unfitted for seafaring should be as free to make it his career as he is to choose any other, and having entered it he should be as free to leave it later as he would be to leave any other career he might have chosen."

Needless to say, we are not in agreement with governmental and other plans of regulating entry into the seafaring trade by means of pre-sea training. We refuse to accept any conditions that in the words of the I.L.O. paper "may have to be imposed in regard to entry into and departure from the occupation", even though the I.L.O. paper adds that these conditions should be conceived in the man's own and the general interest and not be designed to tie him to his occupation against his will".

The road to hell is paved with good intentions. We prefer to let the seamen look after themselves as good union men do. We do not want them to become wards of the state and dependent upon a government agency that may or may not disbar them from the exercise of their lawful and freely chosen occupation.

It has long been our determined union policy that the proper way to make a man a seaman is to put him aboard as a beginner and let him learn the business right from the beginning up. We do not intend to deflect from that course. Itraining schools. The record of and its affiliate, the SUP with its own pre-sea training plan during

It is our task as unionists to had recognized the need to train been said before, the only way to pent-up and steadily mounting demands for seafaring personnel. feet over-all, 25 feet 6 inches we have satisfactory contractual beam two-masted schooner of been trained up to that date. In 1944, which was our biggest year, ure. The work of the union train-Many minor questions raised in ing school has been excellent and like it are the government bureaucrats.

> So much for the experience of the union with pre-sea training. It should be emphasized, howunder the stress of wartime and in order to cope with the steadily or anything but our own ECOmounting demands for emergency trained merchant marine personnel, the SUP and its officers al ready expressed as far back as 1942 the view that the only ones to undertake and carry out such a training plan should be the seamen's unions and then only when an emergency exists. Otherwise seamen should be trained aboard ships as crew members at the point of production. This view has not changed. Any proposal that places pre-sea training into the hands of others but the unions is entirely unacceptable to the SIU and the SUP.

> There are powerful reasons for our stand. First, it is in line with the union policies and principles. Second, we have proven beyond doubt that the union can show better results than a great public that would help a man stay on raining program fostered and paid for with the taxpayers'

Union President Harry Lundeberg. President of the SIU, stated in reports on several occasions, that the government expense in training seamen through the WSA school scheme amounted to $654.00 for an ordinary seaman and $1308.90 for an AB. On the other hand, the training program operated and financed by the SUP did not cost the American taxpayer a single cent, meaning that hundreds of thousands of tax dollars were saved, not to mention the considerable administrative expenses of running the WSA and Maritime Commission

ulations of this kind are likely to But since there seem to be the union emergency training open the way to many abuses on strongly-held different opinions program speaks for itself and will

> Looking at post-war conditions as they appear today and considering the excessive number of seamen available everywhere Some time before the United there will be no need for pre-sea States entered the war, the SUP training of any nature. As has seamen in anticipation of the train a seaman is to take him aboard ship and let him learn his business from the beginning upward. In an emergency, a trainrelations and who are well aware of the splendid services rendered by the union in training, manning and sailing the ships, have concurred in this view.

> In conclusion, I wish to state that we cannot expect immediate results from the July meeting in London, nor a satisfactory meeting of minds between the position Foreign Seamen's Representatives. Our attendance at the London Conference is necessary and important in order to restate the principles and policies of the SIU on these matters. The membership of our Unions has through long years of hardship and strugever, that this was undertaken gle learned to recognize that no trust can be placed into anyone NOMIC STRENGTH. Convinced of the duties and obligations of the American Seafaring men toward their fellow Unionists abroad, we trust that our position will in time be understood by them.

Early Union Builders' Record Is Lauded

By LOUIS GOFFIN

When the SIU was first conceived, it lacked a big bank account and it lacked a large membership. But it did have a small determined group of militants.

In those first days of the SIU there were no union halls. There insure jobs, and no good wages the beach after he left a ship. self and all seamen everywhere.

Disputes during that period of early organization were settled at the point of production. When companies were organized and agreements made, conditions imments meant so much, for so much had been expended in seldom did a ship come in with bum beefs.

Although most of the oldtimers still be maintained.

and confident in the knowledge maintain.

"IT'S A MARCH OF DEATH II"

Beefs Have Time Limit

By J. P. SHULER

The business in the port of New rightfully his. York saw its slowest work in a off time.

bringing beefs to the hall after it your customary duties in the is too late to settle them, such as right manner. Men finding themsigning off articles under mutual selves under this pressure should consent at the request of the mas- contact the Special Services deter. All members should know that once you sign Articles that signing off Articles. you can collect 30 days wages, if you are signed off without cause. by a number of laws. Some men mutual consent. In this case he mation beforehand.

lloses a month's wages which is

Of course, merely having your long time. Not many ships and name on the Articles does not not many beefs. What beefs mean that you can quit work or there were were settled at pay- take off the rest of your time in port. It does mean that you are There are a number of men protected as long as you perform partment at the union hall before

Merchant seamen are protected Many times the head of some are ignorant of these laws theredepartment will want to get rid by losing money and conditions. of a seaman who has already In a number of cases things could signed on Articles and he will be have been corrected, if they had bulldozed in to signing off under contacted the hall for the infor-

By GEORGE W. THOMAS

to the satisfaction of the men. In this port we make it a prac-proved somewhat and the union that in union there is strength, it is not lost, for no organization achieving them, that every man can rest on its present laurels or knew them from cover to cover the achievements of the past. The for his particular department and future will demand a fighting determination for many problems will have to be met.

Now that we are strong finan- be, to preserve the achievements

MOBILE - Shipping continued tice to make every ship at least were, of course, no agreements to to be very good this week, forc- forty-eight hours before the paying us to call many jobs to other branches, and prospects of ship. branches, and prospects of ship- a clean payoff and get everything There was no profit in fighting a ping for the next several weeks they are entitled to. In the past union fight, except for the satis- to come are very bright. Patrol- month there have been more faction a man got out of the fight men Neira and Thomas paid off ships than ever before in the hisitself and the knowledge that he several ships which crewed up in tory of this port coming in for was bettering conditions for him- New York. These ships came in payoffs. It takes time to settle with a good many beefs which these beefs due to the fact there the Patrolmen were able to settle are so many different companies to contact. It is requested that in the future that the ships' delegates collect all the disputed overtime, and if the Patrolman doesn't get aboard when you arhalls became stronger. The agree- is up to us to see that the old rive, bring it up to the Union Hall militant spirit of the early days so we can square it away and the men can have a clean payoff.

Any men in the other branches who are in need of a job come on down and get a good ship. We have acquired a blackboard similar to the one in New York and It is time now as we look into also a new bulletin board. In the are gone from the ranks, some the postwar years to remember future the Constitution of the having been lost in the war and how much was sacrificed to build union will be upheld very strictly others graduated to officers rat-this union and to promise our- as far as gambling and drinking ings, their fighting spirit must selves that the same sacrifices are concerned in the hall. We will be made in the future if need have posted signs to that effect as we are too busy to have to cially and numerically, wise in that the oldtimers fought so hard waste time with a bunch of the ways of union organization to get and were so vigilant to drunks causing a lot of foolish arguments in the hall.

WEEK'S NEWS IN REVIE

This page is intended for the benefit of SIU men in foreign ports. We hope to be able to keep them informed on what is going on at home, both in sports and current events. Suggestions from the membership concerning the news coverage desired, will be welcomed.

—The Editors

URBENT

WAR THE

The heaviest blows of the Pacific war have been unleashed against Japan these last few weeks. Up to last Sunday, she had been under naval bombardment for sixteen days, and under air attack for fifty consecutive nights-and the blows are still continu-

In the most audacious move of the war, Admiral Halsey's Third' Fleet sailed right into Japan's home waters, twenty-five miles from shore-within spitting distance of Hirohito's front porch-and poured thousands of shells into the coastal cites. Neither the planes nor the fleet encountered any opposition from the Japs. Their ships are still in hiding and their air force consistently refuses to get off the ground. Opinion is that they are being saved for the last dance, but meanwhile the Japanese mainland is taking a terrific beating.

In the first two naval strikes alone more than 800 enemy planes were destroyed or damaged; more than 125 locomotives were ruined, and 374 ships, totalling 159,000 tons, were sunk or damaged. That ought to give you an idea-and these figures are only a partial score.

Rumors are that the Japs are putting out peace feelers, but the word is that the Allies are holding to the "unconditional surrender"

These bombing and shelling forays are, of course, the beginning of the "softening up" process. The Japanese Army must still be met and destroyed, and a new invasion seems iminent. Whether on the China coast or Japan itself Allied soldiers will be making new landings to mark the third and last act of this tragedy.

INTERNATIONAL

President Truman is still in Pottsdam, conferring with Stalin have a ceiling over their heads, and Churchill. The proceedings are entirely secret, with the press kept at a respectable distance and fed the most innocuous of handouts about the luncheons . . . William Joyce, "Lord Haw Haw," under trial for treason in England, claims that he is an American citizen, prematurely counted out when born in Brooklyn. Trial has been postponed until September to al- they fell from first to third place. low the birth records to be checked . . . Sam Pope Brewer, New Those who had picked them for York Times correspondent, charges that Marshal Tito is using strong sixth at the beginning of the seaarm methods to muzzle his opponents, and is branding anyone who son nodded their heads and said. criticizes him as a "fascist." Communist Party tactics are the same all over .. Spain's Franco promised to restore the monarchy in the makes predictions about the unnear future. The Spanish people, who have had more than their predictable Dodgers is sticking share of trouble, are not at all enthusiastic . . . The "non-fraternization" policy of the U.S. Army in Germany has been revoked, and their spikes firmly into third the GIs can now resume what they have been doing all along-step- place and began making motions ping out with the German women . . . The Belgium cabinet seems to to climb out. They have just finhave won the first round in its fight to keep King Leopold out of ished a successful western tour their country. Leopold says he won't abdicate, but he won't attempt and are digging in, awaiting the to return to the country until the people decide whether they want invasion of the western clubs. It him. Damned sporting of him . . . Marshal Petain is on trial in France for treason. Chief witnesses against him so far have been Daladier and Renaud, both ex-premiers, who have testified to Petain's pro-Nazi activities even before France surrendered. Petain tion of their old pal and hero, claims everything he did was for the Allied cause . . . The Soviet Union is beginning to reconvert to peacetime industry. The Russian workers have returned to the eight hour day, with no reduction of from the west coast and signed pay. Plans are being made to increase the output of the individual to a contract. He is being used workers. Stalin promises a bigger Soviet navy, saying the Russian strictly for pinch hitting purpeople want "a still stronger and mightier" navy . . . Our State Department declares that the U.S. will insist on its rights to participate on an equal basis when Allied arrangements for Polish elections are last Friday, Johnny Greco of made. Somebody honest better count those ballots.

to swing.

The pace is particularly hot in the American League, with every club a contender, excepting the the chin from everyone and lov-

Detroit is still on top, and should stay there, on form. Having Hank Greenberg back in the lineup is helping them no end. Though not quite in shape, and showing the effects of not having played for four years-Hank was one of the very few big leaguers in service who did not play ball -Greenberg has not lost his hitting eye. Although he is not hitting at his former pace, he has poled several home runs, and knocked in runs when they were needed.

The Yanks have been doing poorly these past few weeks, and there is talk of Manager Joe Mc-Carthy retiring because of ill health. Larry MacPhail has so far succeeded in keeping him in, although the final say so rests with the doctors who are putting Joe through the paces, while he is taking a vacation. Red Ruffing is back in harness, too, after putting in two and a half years in the Air Corps. So far his presence has made little difference in the Yankee fortunes.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs have taken over full possession of first place, with the Cardinals and the Dodgers fighting it out for the second notch. The race is not as close as in the Amercan League, although only Cincinnati, Boston and the Phils seem to be absolutely hopeless cases. The Phils, like wages, and not even an act of Congres

"I told you so." But anyone who his neck out. The Dodgers put should be fun, and might be de-

Most interesting news for the Dodger fans is the return to ac-Babe Herman. Yep, that rightthe forty some odd year old veteran was induced or seduced back poses, and is doing pretty well, with a home run to his credit.

At the Madison Square Garden Montreal got the unanimous detor in his favor.

round battle.

hurt when his automobile turned in the fundamentals of baseball.

The national pastime is hitting cision over Tony Janiro in an over near Princeton, New Jersey. a terrific pace these days, as the eight rounder. Johnny was the He reports that he hurt his right second half of the season gets in- aggressor throughout the fight, shoulder and back and lacerated which was the fortor that won his left leg. How serious his inhim the nod. Actually Janiro juries are is not known at this outpunched him, but that was writing . . . Last Saturday two because Greco was always boring records were set at the Belmont Athletics, who are taking it on in, carrying the fight. Greco was Park track. A new mark was set the heavier puncher, another fac- in the daily double betting with $202,800 pushed through that In the six round semi-final, window. The total amount wag-George Morelia, Mexican battler, ered that day hit $3,704,466, for beat Phil Palmer of Vancouver. a new track record . . . Joe Louis Bally Carubia, from Harlem, built denies that he is about to be disup an early lead and beat Pat charged. He points out that he Giordano of Toronto in a six has only 71 points, and besides he wants to stay in until it is all FLASHES-HOT AND COLD over . . . Rogers Hornsby, one of . . Chet Laabs, who helped hit baseball's immortals, is operating the St. Louis Browns to their first a baseball school for youngsters pennant last year, was released in Chicago, and doing a fine job. from his war job and has rejoin- Hornsby is not the "director" of ed the ball club. He should be the school. He is the teacher, more than helpful . . . Lightweigh personally instructing the kidschampion Bob Montgomery was who range from 12 to 17 years-

Major League Baseball

Monday, July 23, 1945

Americai	N	lationa	I	æa	gue
STANDING OF THE CLUBS					STAN	DING O	FT	HE	CLU	BS
	w	L	PC	GB			w	L	PC	G
troit	47	35	.573	21/	Chicago		52	32	.619	-

	W	L	PC	GB		w	L	PC	GB
Detroit	47	35	.573	_	Chicago	52	32	.619	_
Washington	44	37	.543		Brooklyn	49	38	.563	41/5
New York		39	.519		St. Louis	49	38	.563	41/2
St. Louis	41	39	.513		Pittsburgh		42	.523	8
Boston	43	41	.512		New York	46	45	.505	91/6
Chicago	43	41	.512	5	Cincinnati	40	41	.494	10/2
Cleveland	38	43	.469	81/2	Boston	41	45	.477	12
Philadelphia		52	,358	171/2	Philadelphia	25	67	.272	31

	Committee and the second of th
Major Lea	gue Leaders
CLUB BATTING	CLUB BATTING
Chicago 319 697 276 .257 Washington 304 692 275 .252 Detroit 276 646 264 .246 Cleveland 267 637 246 .243 St. Louis 296 659 273 .241	R H RBI PC Chicago 410 810 375 282 St. Louis 435 829 403 277 Pittsburgh 448 813 414 276 Brooklyn 479 840 415 273 Boston 457 816 426 274 New York 403 850 371 271 Cincinnati 276 664 256 249 Philadelphia 336 740 302 244
LEADING BATTERS	LEADING BATTERS
RUNS BATTED IN	Holmes, Boston
HOME-RUN HITTERS	HOME-RUN HITTERS
Stephens, St. Louis 14 R. Johnson, Boston 11 Etten, New York 8 Hayes, Cleveland 8 Lake, Boston 8 Cullenbine, Detroit 8 Estalella, Philadelphia 8 Clift, Washington 8	Holmes, Boston
LEADING PITCHERS	LEADING PITCHERS

G	W	L	PC	G	W	L	P
. D 20	16	2	.889	Buker, Brooklyn17	4	0	1.00
rriss, Boston20	8	ĩ	.889	Gables, Pittsburgh 11	4	0	1.00
mton, Detroit 12	5	i	.833	Cooper, St. LBost 18	9	1	.90
incrief, St. Louis 12	11	3	.786	Bowman, Cincinnati 10	7	2	.77
onard, Washington 17	14	6	.700	Passeau, Chicago20	10	3	.76
whouser, Detroit22	9	4	.692		13	5	.72
vens, New York16	11	5	.688		9	4	.69
omek, Cleveland 18	10	5	.667		12	6	.66
rowy, New York17 ristopher, Phila21	ii	6	.647		10	5	,66
cucki, St. Louis20	10	6	.625		11	6	.64
olff, Washington18	10	6		Mungo, New York17	9	5	.64
eretti, Washington23	9	6		Hutchings, Boston30	5	3	.62
cretti, Washington	ó	6	600	Erickson, Chicago17	5	3	.62
ove. Chicago	6	4	600	Sewell, Pittsburgh23;	11	7	.61
Neill, Boston	10	7	.588		9	6	.60

- 91.5
В		$-\mathbf{U}$	In
Beacher, J. C.
Beadle, Harvey			71
Beasley, Arthur Beckles, Clarence	30000	A. II. DE	ull
Bednar, Michael
Bedtras, Edward			4 =
Behun, Stephen J.		Cardoso, Noci
Belles, John		Cardoso, Machino M	1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 -
Benion, Frank C		Tours Der D
Bennett, Wm		Carlson, Roy N.
Bennington, Dean G	. 9.00	Carolan, J. C.
Berry, Albert H	. 2.25	Carr, Ewell, Jr
Berwick, Louis		Carrington, Lensey
Beyer, John J.		Carriveau, Reuben, Jr
Billings, John C.		Carron, Deritaru V	.71
Birkeland, Monroe		Carron, John
Black, Bernard		Carron, with
Black, Leslie A		Carter, rougie
Blanda, Joseph		Carter, Michard II.
Blankenship, Lionel		Casey, Daward D
Blanton, Ollie		Cassiuy, Euwaru
Blanton, Thos. A		Cassiay, Lune o
Bloem, Alexander		[Cassiuy, O. J
Bloem, Alexander		Catalizaro, In that
Bloom, Wm. R		Catrone, John
Bodden, Martin	1.42	Caucelo, Rodolfo
Boland, Lester		Cavanough, M
Bolenala, Edward		Cepeda, Luis
Boling, William		Chadburn, Wm
Boll, Herman E.			42.65
Bonnell, Wm. H		Citation Caracity area Der C.	2.25
Bora, Alexander		Chamberlain, Stainey 1	4.50
Borgialli, Diminic		Chancey, E	15.61
Boteler, Sumner		Cilitaty, I dui	3.72
Boughton, Lorin	10.15	Chac, Lucton
Bouquet, Jules J.	56.15	Chasseran, II. O	4.95
Bowden, W. J.		Carrettaria a mar an announce	16.09 3.75
Bowman, Clyde L	45.40	Chrapczynski, Ladislaus	10.27
Boyce, C. W	2.84	Christoferson, Walter E	11.32
Boyer, Leroy A		Christon, George	21.33
Boyle, John J.		Chrysna, Albert J	4.88
Boyle, Bernard	6.25	Cimorelli, Clement	23.00
Bozard, Marvin	28.44	Clark, Bernard A	.71
Bradley, Alphonso S		Clark, Edward B	118.75
Bradley, Frank	8.06	Clark, Kalinoff	1.50
Bradshaw, Chas C	4.27 9.63	Clark, Raymond	2.13
Braid, George	10.28	Clemens, A. C	4.25
Bray, John B.	3.55	Clements, Luis	11.38
Brazil, George	2.79	Clifford, Kenneth E	33.77
Briant, Louis	1.50	Clish, ArthurCoker, Gibson H	21.59
Brigman, B. R.	43.24	Coleman, M.	10.66 2.25
Brindise, William J	3.00	Coleman, Robert A.	6.00
Britt, Bruxy	1.50	Collados, Jose	65.94
Brock, Robert M.	33.05	Collins, Morris L	5.25
Brown, Kenneth	` 1.34	Como, Peter	.87
Brown, Russell D.	2.25	Conway, Daniel J	15.22
Bryant, Rollo H.	11.03	Conway, James	14.39
Bryant, Vernon E	4.27	Cooper, James	1.42
Buckland, Gordon	.71	Cooper, Michael	3.12
Buffington, Arthur	2.16	Corbett, Ed. P.	2.25
Bullock, James	4.50	Corbett, Wm. C	8.53
Bułłock, James	44 2 2 2	Cornett, Clyde C.	1.50
Bumpus, Isaac M	3.55	Countryman, Eugene S	42.66 33.77
Burdge, Gilbert R.	113.76	Sound Jindin, Eugene S	00.11
Burgess, Willard E	4.00		-
Burgess, Paul	23.50	PERSONAL	S
Burke, E. B.	118.75	- LINOIMI	10
Burke, John S.	9.00	M. A. DUNHAM and A. J.	Dean
Burke, Raymond C.	6.04
Burke, Richard E	3.75	who were on the Cranston
Butler, Wm	5.83	tory on March 10, 1945, co Benjamin B. Sterling at 42 B
Buydos, George P Buzon, Theodore L	12.11 2.25	way concerning an accid
Dusting Theodole II	2.20	which occurred at that time

C

Calesa, Joseph 27.73

Calicchio, Dominic A. 25.04

Campbell, Morris L. 17.25

6.59

6.00

9.76

.85

Cabrera, Angel

Callis, Willie K.

Camara, Arthur J.

Campbell, John

PERSONALS

. who were on the Cranston Vicory on March 10, 1945, contact Benjamin B. Sterling at 42 Broadway concerning an accident which occurred at that time. 1 1 1

Holder of Receipt No. A6607 see Charles Simmons, Patrolman at the New York Hall.

> t t t EDWIN L. GREEN

Canney, Everette, Jr. 2.88 at the headquarters office in New Carawan, W. F. 10.53 York on the 6th floor.

-Unclaimed Wages-A. H. Bull Steamship

10.63 42.36 18.00 4.50 3.75 4.38 114.47 2.25 29.60 67.15 5.75 3.42 26.08

13.48 11.25 5.85 10.50

)	-	_
•	Cardoso, Noer	4.50	Crank, Ollie W
•	Cardoso, Adelino A		Crawley, Wm
	Carl, Bert B		Cresta, Carmine
	Carlson, Gustav		Crew, W. J
	Carlson, Roy N		Croke, Thomas
ì	Carolan, J. C.		Cromie, Willy
	Carr, Ewell, Jr.
ì	Carrington, Lensey	www.1007101	Cruz, E.
1	Carriveau, Reuben, Jr	14.53
	Carroll, Bernard V	.71
١	Carroll, John	6.75
ı	Carroll, Wm.	14.26
١		17.25
١	Carter, Fougie
۱	Carter, Richard A		Cunningham, Leo
ı	Casey, Edward E	5.67	Cushing, Geo. H
I	Cassidy, Edward	1.50	Czemeris, John
۱	Cassidy, Luke J		Czombus, Steve
ı	Cassidy, O. J.	8.25	D
ı	Catanzaro, Arthur	.69
l	Cates, James M		Dall, Salleh
	Catrone, John		Dallia, J. Paul
	Caucelo, Rodolfo		Daley, Raymond
ı	Cavanough, M		Dames, Joseph A
١	Cepeda, Luis		Dann, John E
۱	Chadburn, Wm		Dasher, Clifford A
ļ	Chamberlain, George	42.65	DaSilva, Horacio
l	Chamberlain, Herbert	2.25	Davenport, Joseph
l	Chamberlain, Stanley P	4.50	Davenport, Percy
	Chancey, E	15.61	Davidson, Charles
	Christy, Paul		Davis, Floyd, Jr
	Chase, Theron		Davis, Chas., Jr
	Chasseran, H. O	4.95	Davis, Cleo C
	Chieftain, Paul E		Davis, Edward E
	Chmelowsky, Leo L		Davis, George W
	Chrapczynski, Ladislaus		Davis, James D
	Christoferson, Walter E	11.32	Day, Roy
	Christon, George	21.33	Dean, Harry T
	Chrysna, Albert J	4.88	DeFretes, R
	Cimorelli, Clement		DeJesus, G
	Clark, Bernard A		DeJesus, Guillermo
	Clark, Edward B
	Clark, Kalinoff		Delvalle, Pedro
	Clark, Raymond	2.13
	Clemens, A. C.	4.25
	Clements, Luis	11.38	MONEY D
	Clifford, Kenneth E.	33.77	MONET
	Clish, Arthur	21.59	SC OPENAR
	Coker, Gibson H	10.66	SS OREMAR
	Coleman, M.	THE CASE OF SHORE	J. Sakers, 9 hrs; Hallo
	Coleman, Robert A.	2.25	hrs; Gongalez, 10 hrs; E
		6.00	hrs; Howe; 15 hrs. Collec
	Colling Morris I	03.94	the Calmar SS Company
	Collins, Morris L	5.25	New York.
	Como, Peter	.87	t t t
	Conway, Daniel J	15.22	SS LORING
	Conway, James	14.39	These men, who paid
	Cooper, James	1.42	Norfolk have the fo
	Cooper, Michael	3.12	amounts due them: B. F.
	Corbett, Ed. P		$60.93; R. Rollins, $60.93;
ø	CORPLOSE INCHAS IT	UEO	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,

oway, 5 Eringis, Victor

$60.93; R. Rollins, $60.93; J. Freemen, $30.64; C. Manning, $28.23; S. Bell, $1.37. Collect by writing Faircloth, Harold to Eastern in Boston.

> * * * SS J. BLAINE

W. Gordon can collect $39.60 by writing to Eastern in Boston.

> * * * SS ALCOA MASTER

All hands who were on board during the buzz bomb attacks in Antwerp have an attack bonus of $125 coming. Collect at Alcoa, 17 Battery Pl., New York.

* * * SS OREMAR

Extra meal money, an even split five ways for 760 meals, are due the following: McTurner, Chief Steward; Brown, Chief Cook; Edwards, 2nd Cook; Nor-Your retiring card is being held fleet, 3rd Cook; Jackson, Messman. Collect at Calmar, 44 Whitehall St., New York. Fowler, Samuel

p	Company	0
5.69	Dennis, Louis G.	46.82
1.50
	DeSantis, Francis
	Desjardins, Raymond
2.25
4.50
5.69	Devlin, L. E Diapoules, Menelaos	7.91
8.18	Diza, Vicente C	2.87
2.00
9.62
10.18
5.25
9.00	Dixon, Henry	4.27
1.42		68.27
5.25	Doak, Wm. J	4.88
5.00	Dohms, Herman W	23.00
8.75
	Donoughue, Charles	9.24
	Dornin, Francis
2.13	A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR	47.56
2.84		3.50
.71	Dowling, Chas	56.84
4.00	Dowling, John	9.00
10.65	Doyle, F. A	5.00
42.36	Dressen, Francis	3.00
18.00	Driscoll, Wm. P
4.50	Duarte, Ananias, Jr	5.00
3.75	Dudley, Knolley	2.25
4.38	Dunbaugh, Allan J
14.47	Dupree, Mac P	17.85
2.25	Dwyer, Maurice J	3.75
29.60	Dyer, Edgar
67.15	The second secon
5.75	E
3.42	Eaton, Clifton	2.83
26 08	Eaton, John	2.25
6.69	Edson, Bert, Jr	33.77
13.48	Edwards, Mortimer J	23.50
11.25	Edwards, Wm	8.53
5.85	Ehrmann, G. W	20.53
10.50	Elias, Pedro delu Cruz	1.42
.57	Elicerio, Ignacio	8.75
	Ellington, Lee B	269.44
	Elliott, G. W	18.72
JE	Ellis, Leslie E	3.55
	Emerson, D. H	43.80
	Emery, Eugene H	17.66
	Engelhands A	OPE

Ester, 23 Erney, Alfred R. ctable at Escobar, Jose office in Escubio, Fortunio M. Essington, Lavern D. Esterling, Clyde W. 11.38 Evanchik, Joseph 14.22 off in Evans, Albert C. 8.89 ollowing Everett, Moncre I. Ricketts, Eversley, Lambert A. 549.02 4.2 3.5

rancioni, narolu
Falk, Karl
Fall, Harold K
Faulds, Harold, Jr
Faulkner, Wm
Feliciano, Angelo
Ferger, Karl P
Ferguson, John H
Fernandez, Stanley
Ferrari, Gino
Ferrel, Paul
Ferry, Francis
Filker, Boris
Finnegan, Thomas J
Fisher, Walter. F
Fitzpatrick, Daniel F
Fleming, O
Flynn, John
Forbes, Alfred
Forgette, Simon H
Forrest, Vernon Lee
Fortin, Geo. A

7	000-		Flankini, W., Ol.	0.2
8	ges—		Frankowski, Stanley
	~		Fredriksen, A
	Company	9	Frohlich, Herbert	4.6
	Company	,	Frotton, James R	12.1
			Fusco, Anthony
	12 V 10 V 12 V 12 V 12 V 12 V 12 V 12 V	13,500	- 4555,
39	Dennis, Louis G	. 46.82	G
50	DePompei, Anthony R	. 4.62	G 11	7.1
	DeSantis, Francis		Gallaspy, James	1000000
	Desjardins, Raymond		Gallen, Edward	-
	Devlin, James		Galvani, Louis
			Trantr Alvin R	51.19
	Devlin, L. E		Lionea Rocilia	35.9
	Diapoules, Menelaos		Garcia Felipe
	Diza, Vicente C		Gardenhour W C	.75
0	Dickerson, Edward	. 10.27	Garrett, Wayne	.20
2	Dickinson, Kenneth	17.25		10.33
	DiFalco, Ronald		Garrison, Mortimer
	Dixon, Ben		Gawronski, Adalbert	5.00
	Dixon, Henry		Gaylor, J. A	8.46
			Gehlert, John E	1.75
	Dixon, Louis		Gentry, John	9.60
	Doak, Wm. J		Gerie, Harry	28.55
	Dohms, Herman W		Gettings, I
5	Dominski, Floyd	6.75	Gibbs, Philip	21.33
	Donoughue, Charles	9.24
	Dornin, Francis		Gillette, Frederick S
3	Doroba, Charles		Gilliken, George C	1.50
	Dougherty, Walter R		Girlando, Joseph G	10.23
			Glendening, Gordon	27.82
	Dowling, Chas		Godfrey, E	9.00
	Dowling, John		Goetz, Herman C	6.75
3	Doyle, F. A		Gomez, Jose	3.00
6	Dressen, Francis	3.00	Gomez, Juan	.71
0	Driscoll, Wm. P	118.75	Gonzalez, Francisco	.57
0	Duarte, Ananias, Jr	5.00
	Dudley, Knolley		Gonzalez, Luis	14.08
	Dunbaugh, Allan J		Gonzales, N	2.23
7			Goode, George K	8.53
7	Dupree, Mac P.		Goodman, Bernard	.87
5	Dwyer, Maurice J		Goodwin, Archie A	1.42
0	Dyer, Edgar	4.50	Goodwin, Ernest E	4.50
5	E		Gordon, Samuel	70.00
5	And the second s	01000	Gorham, Cleopias	3.50
2	Eaton, Clifton	2.83	Gorman, Richard	8.42
3	Eaton, John	2.25		755755
١	Edson, Bert, Jr	33.77	Gormley, A. J	5.00
5	Edwards, Mortimer J	23.50	Gotham, John	5.51
- 1	Edwards, Wm	8.53	Goven, Adrian J	16.16
	Ehrmann, G. W.	20.53	Graham, Chas. F	4.62
			Graham, Samuel G	2.13
	Elias, Pedro delu Cruz	1.42	Grams, John J	4.25
7	Elicerio, Ignacio	8.75	Grant, Billie	5.60
	Ellington, Lee B	269.44	Grant, Donald W	6.75
1	Elliott, G. W	18.72		100000000000000000000000000000000000000
	Ellis, Leslie E	3.55	Grant, Edward	13.19
	Emerson, D. H	43 80	Grant, James W	2.00
	Emery, Eugene H	17 66	Grant, Wellington	18.00
	Engelhardt, A	675	Grayson, Robert	27.10
		0.75	Greene, Frank	8.50
	Eringis, Victor	0.00	Griffin, Clifford	12.68
	Erney, Alfred R	2.20	Griffin, Ewing W	2.53
	Escobar, Jose		Grimes, Berry
1	Escubio, Fortunio M			2.25
	Essington, Lavern D	675	Grover, Cobler	4.25
	Esterling, Clyde W	11 20	Grohulski, Wladislaw	3.75
	Evanchik, Joseph	14 99	Guerra, Jesus	5.00
1	o obopit	- 1144	Guerra Jose	9 95

Franklin, W., Jr.

Guerra, Jose

Guzman, Antonio

	SIU HALLS
4.38	NEW YORK 51 Beaver St.
4.27	BOSTON 330 Atlantic Ave.
3.50	BALTIMORE 14 North Gay St.
2.58	PHILADELPHIA 6 North 6th St.
332.78	NORFOLK 25 Commercial Pl.
31.61	THE WORLEANS 339 Chartres St.
23.00	CHARLESTON 68 Society St. SAVANNAH 220 East Bay St.
-	TAMPA 842 Zack St.
2.25	JACKSONVILLE 920 Main St.
40.71	MOBILE 7 St. Michael St.
10.98	SAN JUAN, P. R 45 Ponce de Leon
19.61	GALVESTON 3051/2 22nd St.
3.75	HOUSTON 6605 Canal St.
2.85	RICHMOND, Calif 257 5th St.
2.25	SAN FRANCISCO 59 Clay St.
4.00	SEATTLE 86 Senecg St PORTLAND 111 W. Burnside St.
6.40	WILMINGTON 440 Avalon Blvd.
10.17	HONOLULU 16 Marchant Se
	BUFFALO 10 Exchange St
2.13	CHICAGO 24 W. Superior Ave.
6.75	SO. CHICAGO 9137 So. Houston Ave.
6.00	CLEVELAND 1014 E. St. Clair St.
3.00	DETROIT 1038 Third St.
4.27	DULUTH 531 W. Michigan St.
50.000	VICTORIA, B. C 602 Boughton St. VANCOUVER, B. C., 144 W. Hastings St.
	Transcourt Little Line 144 W. Hagtings 48