The Facts, Mr. Hoffman

In a letter to Senator Styles Bridges, former chairman of the Congressional "watchdog" committee on the Marshall Plan, ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman tried to justify his infamous proposal to move all bulk Marshall Plan cargoes in foreign vessels by a statement that simply does not fit the facts.

He declared that the cost of shipping a ton of coal from the United States to France is sometimes as much as $4.50 less on a foreign ship than on an American ship. He strongly implies that this big differential was the rule rather than the exception, and he forgot to note that it was an exception that was no longer happening on December 3 when he wrote the letter.

The facts are these: The American rate for carrying coal from the East Coast to France is $10.85 a ton. This rate is set by the Maritime Commission. On foreign ships, the rate ranges from $8.50 a ton to about $9.00. This week, in an effort to get at the truth, a shipping official called three operators of foreign flag vessels to inquire about the coal rate. Two of the operators quoted $8.50. The third wouldn't talk about any rate below $9.00 and seemed to prefer a higher one.

Thus, the actual "differential" about which Hoffman has been bleating turns out to be no more than $2:35 a ton at the most and only $1.85 or less in some cases. And the story doesn't end there, because the differential is just about wiped out later so far as American taxpayers are concerned. Coal is not the only bulk cargo, but the coal rate continues to be the root of the controversy.

Another facet of the Marshall Plan shipping situation has been overlooked completely by Hoffman and his executive assistants. At least they have not mentioned it in their public statements. Whether Hoffman knows it or not, foreign operators are getting away with a scheme so obvious that one can only conclude that Hoffman is a very gullible gent.

It is no secret that representatives of French shipping interests recently told a member of the Maritime Commission that they deliberately depressed their rates in a maneuver to get a bigger slice of the melon. Later on, the Frenchmen continued, up would go the rates. The Americans would be hoodwinked.

The ships of Cuba Distilling came into the SIU recently when, in an NLRBconducted election, the seamen chose the SIU as their bargaining agent by a wide margin. The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a collective bargaining election on nine ships of the Cities Service tanker fleet. The Seafarers International Union, Atlantic and Gulf District, will be the only union to appear on the ballot.

CS Lawyer Writes 'Constitution' For CTMA, Keeps Control Of Stooge 'Union' In Own Hands

The company lawyer trying to headed "Duties of the Board of, organize the Cities Service com- Governors," and in Article VI, pany union must have been red- headed "Advisory Counselor." In faced with embarrassment when fact, the latter article is the key the SIU pointed out that he had to the whole scheme for it guarno union at all because he had antees company control of the no union constitution. In his union through the company haste to stooge for his labor-hat-lawyer himself. ing boss he had overlooked this basic step.

Since then he has corrected the deficiency. He has written a constitution. At least, the company lawyer claims the phony document is a constitution and to prove his point right at the top of page one he has placed the solemn words "Constitution and By-Laws for the Citco Tanker Men's Association." Then the joke begins.

The cream of the jest is found in Article III, Section 2,

Article VI reads as follows:

SECTION I. A. An advisory counselor shall be retained by this Association, the expense of which shall be borne by the Association and approved by the Board of Governors.

B. The Advisory Counselor

shall furnish the Board of Governors with all information regarding industrial relations in the Maritime field and activities of other groups that in any way may affect this organization; he shall keep the Board of Governors aware of action by the National Labor Relations Board of Government bodies and all other information necessary and proper to continue our organization on a firm and secure basis.

C. He shall assist the Board of Governors in collective bargaining with the company and aid them in the official and proper administration of the affairs of the Association.

Naturally, the Advisory Counselor would be the company lawyer. He would give the Board of Governors advice and information on trade unionism and tell them how to negotiate their contract. And he would the CTMA payroll while giving them the company line on how the union was to be run. Some constitution!

Suggesting that a union pay a company lawyer to represent its membership is an insult to seamen's intelligence. It is small wonder that Cities Service seamen are voicing their bitter distaste for the company lawyer's slimy plan. Moreover, the company lawyer would be violating legal ethics by representing both sides in a controversy.

However, the company lawyer has accomplished one thing. He has insured an SIU victory in the forthcoming collective bargaining election, although no insurance was necessary. It would surprise nobody if before have the nerve to be listed on long he started drawing five-dol-

Branch Meetings

The next regular membership meetings will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 12 at 7 P.M. in all ports. With the exception of New York, all branches hold their meetings in their own halls.

Take an active part in the SIU. Make sure you're at the meeting. Remember, the time is 7 P.M. All Brothers must show up promptly.

New York meetings are held in Roosevelt Auditorium, 100 East 17th Street, corner of Fourth Avenue.

Frenchmen. Foreign rates already are rising as the foreign operators smack their lips in anticipation.

Foreign operators haven't been worrying about making or losing money for the present period. If they lose money they expect to be reimbursed directly or indirectly through the Marshall Plan. This would mean American subsidization of European merchant fleets with low labor standards. And if they get the extra cargoes and raise the rates, too, their chances of losing money are very slight. Yet Hoffman, in his letter to Bridges, wailed that to pay the American rates was to subsidize the American merchant marine, and copies of that letter were sent to many trade unionists, Senators and Congressmen who have taken up the cudgels in the SIU's fight to have the Hoffman order rescinded. In the early days of the battle, Hoffman and his assistants apparently believed that this letter was enough to fool everybody. Actually, it fooled nobody.

What of the rate differential that remains? Is it as devastating as Hoffman would have it sound? The answer. is a resounding "No," after some of the elements in steamship financing are examined.

If a minimum of half of the bulk cargoes are to be carried under the American flag as the law now provides, despite Hoffman's peculiar interpretation, they will go for the most part in Liberties under bareboat charter from the Maritime Commission.

When a company charters a Liberty from the Commission, it pays $7,500 a month in rent. If 150 Liberties should fail to operate because of the Hoffman order, it would mean a dead loss in revenue to the Government of $1,125,000 a month. The charter hire for Victory ships is $10,000 a month, and if any Victory should fail to operate because of the order the loss of revenue would be correspondingly greater.

Maritime Commission spokesmen point out that the money from chartering a ship is almost entirely profit as reported by the Port Agents. These Brothers find time hanging to the Government. The loss to the Government is even heavily on their hands. Do what you can to cheer them up by greater, however, for a ship in the boneyard costs the Commission about $10,000 a year to maintain.

Then there is the matter of taxes. If a company charters a Liberty, the first 10 percent in gross profit on the capital invested in the operation of that ship is subject to normal corporate income taxes. When the profits go higher, the taxes spiral. After the 10 percent has been taxed separately, the Government divides additional gross profits by the number of days the company actually operated the ship.

The company is then taxed 50 percent of the first $100 a day profit, 75 percent of profit between $100 and $300 a day, and 90 percent of any profit above $300 a day. The steamship companies still pay substantial dividends while the Government gets millions and millions in taxes.

In short, if the Maritime Commission ships are in the bonevard, the Government loses: 1. millions of dollars in charter hire; 2. millions of dollars in maintenance charges; 3. millions of dollars in corporate taxes; 4. millions of dollars in unemployment benefits paid to seamen and others in the maritime industry.

Hoffman maintains that if all the bulk cargoes go on foreign flag ships, this country will be able to ship more goods to Europe. This is a dubious argument at proposal defeated. This battle is far from over, but each best, since shipping costs are only one item in the Marshall day we gain new allies in the labor movement and Con-

CS Lawyer Runs CTMA Under Constitution

lar wills for a living instead of sitting in plush offices drafting phony constitutions.

If it turns out that the company lawer has to look for a new job he will be following in the footsteps of company lawyers who have gone before him. It's an old story. A company hires a lawyer to keep the union out by forming a company union or pulling some other dodge. The company lawyer outsmarts himself and his fumbling tactics guarantee the union victory. Out goes the lawyer. Its happened time and again in the past.

NEAT RIG

Just as phony as the Advisory Counselor idea are the proposed CTMA to be. duties of CTMA's Board of Governors. The Governors would be elected through an elaborate election process for two-year terms. There would be three of them, one from each department. After being elected, there he calls a constitution. wouldn't be much for them to patrolmen. Here's how the company lawyer has it in his constitution:

SECTION III.

E. (9) From time to time as the need of the Association requires, the members of the Board of Governors shall agree upon and designate one of their number to spend time meeting the ships in order to maintain closer contact with the membership.

Apparently their duties aboard ships would not include the settlement of beefs. 'The company lawyer has dodged that subject completely. Certainly the lives of CTMA's Board of Governors would be a lot easier than the lives of SIU Port Agents and Patrolmen who meet every SIU ship as it hits an American port.

UNION WAY

Moreover, SIU Patrolmen not only maintain "closer contact" with the SIU membership than any company lawyer could imagine but they work hard to Union Brothers not for the companies.

CTMA Board of Governors would be equally phony. For instance, the Board would:

Cooperate with the employer in the promotion of matters of mutual interest such as safety. sanitation and standards of seamanship.

Confer with the Advisory Counselor both by mail and personally to insure the orderly and lawful administration of this Association.

Prepare an annual report of the activities of the Association with the assistance of the Advisory Counselor.

Every seaman knows that to "cooperate with the employer" on safety and sanitation standards would be to accomplish exactly nothing. If any one doubts this, let him read in the LOG of October 8 how Edgar Eddy was killed aboard the SS Lone Jack, a Cities Service ship, because he was ordered to the outboard side for a broad gauge railroad, has mands for a 35 percent boost of a swinging lifeboat during a been planned for the use of the in pay. storm at sea. Here is the kind of grievance procedure he has devised.

3) The Governors, if they wish, may discuss the matter with the Advisory Counselor.

4) The Advisory Counselor is the company lawyer, and he does "Now boys, Cities Service knows best," the matter is ended. Under the company lawyer's constitution, the company never would have to hear about a beef The company lawyer could dismiss all beefs as a union official. Some union!

MUM'S THE WORD

Under the constitution the In the final analysis, a man's company lawyer has written for security would depend on neither CTMA a union member would lawyer's constitution puts it-nor calls for only one report a year, Governors authorized to sign checks would be bonded for only The Advisory Counselor would not be bonded at all.

By way of contrast, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Seafarers International Union, Atlantic & 1) If a man has a beef, he can Gulf District, issues financial reports every week. Moreover, a lic accountants maintain a constant watch on all accounts. Just to make sure that nothing happens officials of the SIU, A&G District, are bonded up to $25,000 each, and in some cases Headquarters officials are bonded for exactly what the company wants even more. A Seafarer always him to do. He is the final judge knows where his Union stands within CTMA itself. If he says, financially. All Seafarers know that as of December 25, 1948, their Union had cash assets amounting to $1,295,366.02 and several hundred thousand dollars worth of property.

PROOF ENOUGH

Nothing could have demonstrated the phoniness of the Cities Service stand more effectively than this constitution which the company lawyer has drawn up for the company union. When the time comes for Cities Service to vote in the NLRB election, the result will be a smashing victory for the SIU and a punishing blow for the company, the company union and the company lawyer. Cities Service men will vote their preference for the democratic SIU constitution which guarantees rank-andfile control and for SIU security under the finest contracts in maritime.

Dear Brother Hall:-

Below find copies of telegrams sent this day to President Truman, Paul G. Hoffman, ECA Administrator, and to members of Congress in this area. As you will note in the copies of our telegrams, we are wholeheartedly behand the efforts of the Seafarers International Union, Atlantic and Gulf District to preserve American standards and maintain employment for your members.

We are opposed to fictitious transfers of title to ships in order to use this as a camouflage for reducing standards of compensation by hiring labor in depressed countries.

We are asking all our affiliated trade unions, with a total membership of more than 500,000 to send wires in behalf of their own locals.

Wishing you success in your efforts, we are,

Congressional support of the SIU's opposition to the Hoffman ECA proposal, which would scuttle the American merchant marine, continues to pour into Union Headquarters.

Last week's LOG carried statements from 14 Congressmen and Senators backing the SIU's position. The following excerpts are from communications received this week:

Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.):

"You can count on my support."

Rep. James J. Heffernan (D., N.Y.):

"You can rest assured that I will not support any legislation designed to put American seamen out of work."

Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R., Calif.):

"I agree with your stand in this matter, and expect to do all I can toward stopping the same."

Rep. Leonard W. Hall (R., N.Y.):

"I certainly am minded to do everything possible...to protect and further the interests of our American Merchant Marine and I am also expecting, definitely, that this new Congress will go thoroughly into the situation in order to clarify its intention under the ECA law."

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.):

"You may be sure I am giving serious study to this proposal and will take earnestly into consideration your point of view." Sen. Lister Hill (D., Ala.):

"Am doing all in my power to prevent diversion of bulk cargo from American bottoms and will certainly continue my efforts."

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.):

"I have been taking matter of Hoffman directive up with appropriate officials...Shall continue doing my best."

"Thank you for your letter... My people in Florida have already been in touch with me. I shall help."

Rep. John A. Blatnik (D., Minn.):

"As you point out in your letter, the ECA Act clearly stipulated that at least half of all cargoes shipped would move in American ships. I gave this provision of the bill my full support, and shall certainly support the efforts which are being made by your union in cooperation with other labor groups to keep this policy in force. Unemployment among our skilled seamen must be avoided at all costs."

Rep. Jacob K. Javits (R., N.Y.):

"I have carefully noted the points made, and you may be sure that I will have them very much in mind in the course of the consideration of this question in Committee and by the House."

Rep. Eugene J. Keogh (D., N.Y.):

"I appreciate very much having your experienced expression of opinion and want you to know that I propose to give to this, ... my earnest consideration. We are hopeful that we may be able to come forth with satisfactory solutions."

Sen. Walter F. George (D., Ga.):

"I am glad to have the information you furnish relative to the ECA Administrator's proposal regarding ECA bulk cargo. I have taken this matter up with Mr. Hoffman."

Sen. Milton R. Young (R., N.D.):

"Several others have written to me on this matter and I have taken this problem up with Mr. Hoffman, Director of ECA."

Sen. Owen Brewster (R., Maine): "You may be sure I shall have your views in mind when this matter comes up on the floor of the Senate for consideration."

Sen. John C. Stennis (D., Miss.):

"I am confident that this matter will receive the early attention of the Congress and you may be assured of my very real interest in the matter. I have been benefited by your viewpoint

Sen. William F. Knowland (R., Calif.):

"It may be of interest to you to know that the amendment? which is now in the ECA Act of 1948 requiring that at least one half of all cargoes from the United States move in American: ships was introduced by me. I shall oppose any attempt to repeal the congressional policy set forth at that time."

Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R., N.J.):

"I am fully in accord with the news you have expressed. I will be glad to so vote if and when the matter comes before Congress for action."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D., Wash.):

"I am glad to have your expression in this regard. My personal interest dates well ahead of the time the legislation was presented on the floor, at which time a few of us succeeded in having the stipulation written into the basic legislation. This outcome was not anticipated and I now have an opportunity to go into the matter."

Rep. William T. Byrne (D., N.Y.):

'I have been receiving a number of telegrams and letters from my district concerning this proposal, and you may be assured. that I am giving this matter my very serious attention at this time." Rep. Harris Ellsworth (R., Ore.):

"I appreciate the interest of the merchant seamen in this problem and am glad to have your comments. Your letter will be kept in mind in connection with any action which may come before the Congress on this matter. I am sure that any abridgement of the Act of Congress will receive the early attention of the proper committees and recommendations will be made for remedial action."

Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D., La.):

"I have already contacted Administrator Hoffman protesting this action, and assure you of my full cooperation in an effort to have this proposal withdrawn."

Isthmian Payoff Recalls Pre-SIU Days

Here the Union Patrolman assigned to payoff Isthmian's Steel Designer listens to crewmen's accounts of the trip. Left to right: Pedro Velez, Patrolman Jim Sheehan, Jack Smith, C. Kenny, J. Nugent and S. Keane. Contract violations, disputed overtime, beefs of all kinds will be squared away before men payoff—a kig difference from the days before Isthmian men went SIU.

For example, Vincent Horan, who was on an Isthmian ship during the war, wrote to the LOG: "Personally, I was forced to do many hours' work on the bridge that rightfully was over-time for the Deck Gang, but not one man could say a word."

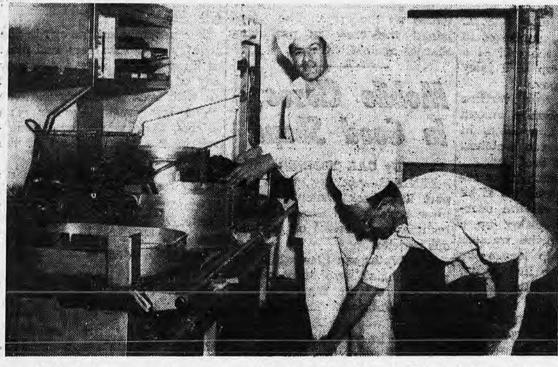

Last week's payoff aboard the Isthmian Steamship Company's SS Steel Designer served as a striking example of what hardworking seamen can accomplish under conditions guaranteed by an SIU contract.

The ship, a C-3, was back from a three-month trip to the Persian Gulf and her lads were paying off. On the job was a Union Patrolman to see that the crew got every cent that was coming to them, that the company tried no tricks to do them out of overtime pay, that the food was satisfactory and to take care of all the problems that arise in the course of a voyage. But his job was easy.

The self-disciplined crew, sailing under a first-rate contract which the company has learned to respect, brought the Steel Designer into port in shipshape condition. There were only a few minor beefs and all of them had been so clearly recorded during the trip by the Department Delegates that the Patrolman was able to settle them in short order, to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

But still fresh in the mind of Isthmian seamen is the fact that they, like the Cities Service tankermen who are to vote soon on SIU representation in a collective bargaining election, were prevented for a long time from getting top wages and first-rate conditions by a powerful company. After years of company domination and abuse, Isthmian men came out from under the boom in 1947, when they chose the SIU as their bargaining representative.

Isthmian seamen make no bones about saying that the SIU has improved their lives to a degree they never would have dreamed about in the old days. And proof of their gains lies in payoffs like that aboard the Steel Designer last week.

Isthmian seamen are now served tasty chow, like the Virginia ham dinner under way in photo above, prepared in spic and span galleys, kept clean by crewmen who are paid top wages for their work. That's why 2nd Cook John McElroy (standing) and 3rd Cook Jimmy Wood, are all smiles. Before SIU came aboard, crewmember Harold Weiss, of Isthmian's Steel Recorder described conditions this way: "The ship is overrun with rats and it's common to come across them in the alleyways and pantries." Throughout the fleet men had to contend with similar conditions of filth, completely unable to secure corrective measures. The cleanup job began when the SIU contract went into force.

Here is the payoff, with all hands getting what's coming to them, including overtime money, as a result of first-rate, on-the-spot representation. Crewmembers are lined up behind Shipping Commissioner to sign off articles, while Steel Designer's Captain H. K. Toepel prepares to give men their earnings. In the days before the SIU contract, overtime was just a word on Isthmian ships. Like in March 1946, when shipboard organizer W. E. Wyman wrote to the LOG: "My total overtime under Isthmian rules amounted to 76 hours, while under SIU it would have added up to 213 hours. What price non-Unionism!"

Steward V. Szymanski shows off one of the trimmings enjoyed by Steel Designer's crew at Christmas dinner—a coconut cake big enough to give all hands double helpings. In the pre-contract days, Isthmian seamen reported constantly: "Chow is lousy and scarce."

The top wages, overtime pay rates and shipboard conditions now enjoyed by Isthmian seamen as a result of their choice of the SIU as collective bargaining representative are now within the grasp of the Cities Service tankermen.

And it cannot come too soon for the great majority of these men. No group of seamen sailing American ships today is more badly in need of the support and protection of a genuine trade union contract than the Cities Service tankermen.

But let the men of the Cities Service fleet tell it themselves.

Of a recent trip aboard the SS Fort Hoskins, former Cities Service tankerman Jesse S. Rogers (since fired) said:

"As soon as the sun's rays break the horizon, the 4-8 watch is out on deck with a paint brush or chipping hammer. Also, Saturday afternoon isn't a time when the 12-4 watch can take things easy on this tub any more. The Mate always has a job of what he calls 'odd jobs.' When yours truly put up a squawk about these 'odd jobs.' the Mate comes out with, 'Well, I could cut out your coffee time, you know'."

Here's another report from a man on another Cities Service ship—the names of course, cannot be disclosed for obvious reasons:

"The Captain and the Mate had us working 16. 17 and 18 hours a day trying to get the tanks cleaned in five days. They wouldn't even reimburse us for the clothes and shoes we ruined on the job. He offered us five hours overtime for the work."

Another Cities Service man reports:

"The cockroaches on this ship are overwhelming. When we pick up our shoes in the morning, dozens of these pests will run out. We find three or four of them dead in our socks. Our suitcases are homes for them."

And another:

"All of us put down overtime for the sea watches on Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, but it was promptly scratched off. Overtime on this scow is as scarce as hen's teeth. No matter how long we work docking and undocking, we can only put down one hour's overtime for it. That, according to the Mate, is company policy."

The list is unending. But Cities Service men can change it all—by voting "Yes" for SIU representation.

NO BEEF

Incidentally, this crew of the Governor Miller paid off without squawking about the transportation rule. That is, all but one joker. This guy knew the rule as well as the rest of the crew, but had to raise the old beef about having to quit after nine months on the ship and losing his vacation, losing this and that.

Union Wreckers Are Warned

The SIU is on record that charges will be placed against men guilty of being the following:

PILFERERS: Men who walk off ships with crew's equipmen or ship's gear, such as sheets, towels, ship's stores, etc., for sale ashore.

WEEDHOUNDS: Men who are in the possession of or who use marijuana on board an SIU ship or in the vicinity of an SIU Hall.

GASHOUND PERFORMERS: Men who jeopardize the safety of their shipmates by drinking while at work on a ship or who turn to in a drunken condition. Those who disrupt the operation of a ship, the pay-off or sign-on by being gassed up.

This Union was built of, by and for seamen. Seafarers fought many long and bloody fights to obtain the wages and conditions we now enjoy. For the first time in the history of the maritime industry a seaman can support himself and his family in a decent and independent manner. The SIU does not tolerate the jeopardizing of these conditions by the actions of irresponsibles.

In any occupation there is a small group of foulballs. While the Union has been fortunate in keeping such characters to a minimum, we must eliminate them altogether from the

All Seafarers, members and officials alike, are under obligation to place charges against these types of characters.

Any man, upon being convicted by a Union Trial Committee of actions such as outlined here, faces Union discipline up to and including complete expulsion from the Seafarers.

The rule is that this overtime is to be divided equally among all three Oilers. The Oilers in turn are to rotate the watches. There is where the beef lies.

The day watch man must rotate on the night watches if he expects to cut in on the overtime money. By setting up a method of rotating the watches as soon as the ship leaves the States there will be little cause for grumbling when the payoff rolls around.

These ships make long trips and sometimes lie in port for one to three weeks. By rotating the time on watch among all three men there will work out an equalization of both number of hours worked and time of day The regular ships to hit port the watches are stood. > On another subject, one which has been touched on before:

Once in awhile, not too frequently, however, a crewmember of a ship will attempt to shirk his work by claiming to know a port agent or official in the Union. By knowing an official he thinks he is exempted from turning to at his work. This is a lot of bunk. If knowing an official were an excuse for lying down on the job, ninety percent of the members would be doing nothing.

SAME BOAT

There is no reason at all for this kind of talk. Every member of the union is treated alike, and knowing an official is no different than knowing any other member of the union. After all, officials are members of the Union, too, and are not a group separate and apart from the rank and file.

MOBILE-Activity in this Gulf port last week centered around three payoffs and three sign-ons, including one vessel on continuous articles.

The Waterman Steamship Corporation had two ships paying off. These were the Topa Topa and the Fairport. The third ship to payoff was the Alcoa Clipper. All were in good shape:

The Fairport and the Clipperre-signed, the Clipper heading out on her usual passenger run to the British West Indies, and the Fairport carrying general cargo to Bremen. The Alcoa Pointer also signed on, going out on the auxite run.

The steamship companies in this port have called our attention to the fact that parcel post packages addressed to the company office for men on their ships cannot be forwarded. They have, therefore, suggested that anyone who thinks he has such a package should claim it at first opportunity.

Since the ILA beef, shipping has been in a turmoil. None of the ships is on schedule, and it appears that it will be a little while longer before all is back to normal once more. The Canton Victory and the Bessemer Victory should be on normal schedule their next time into this port.

In line with our program to bombard Congressmen and government officials with telegrams protesting the Hoffman plan to scuttle American shipping, all the AFL unions in this port have make their feelings known by wire and letter to Washington.

All of the unions participating have received answers to their wires promising favorable action when the plan comes before Congress.

Here's a story that might bring a chuckle. It's told by one of our members, A. J. Varn, who lives in the country outside this fair city.

The people who live out in the country are all farmers, and most of them haven't seen a circus or any of the unusual animals that go with such a menagerie. One night last week, Brother Van relates, there was a small carnival in the area and all of the animal broke loose.

One of the farmers, who hadn't heard of the escape, went out at daylight to milk his cows. In the early morning light he spotted a strange animal (an elephant) grubbing in his cabbage

He got all excited and ran down to the general store and called the county sheriff.

Excitedly he exclaimed: 'There's a terrible monster in my cabbage patch!"

Startled, the sheriff asked: What's he doing?"

"Pulling up my cabbage with his tail," replied the farmer.

"What's he doing with the cabbage?" queried the sheriff.

The farmer replied: "I'm not going to tell you-you'd never believe me!"

Get A Receipt

Every member making a donation to the Union for any purpose should receive an official receipt bearing the amount of the contribution and the purpose for which it was made.

If a Union official to whom contribution is given does not make out a receipt for the money, the matter should immediately be referred to Paul Hall, Secretary-Treasurer, SIU, 51 Beaver Street, New York 4, N. Y.

In advising the Secretary-Treasurer of such transactions, members should state the name of the official and the port where the money was tendered.

(Continued from Page 1) ployes within the meaning of the Taft-Hartley law, and thus they are being prevented from winning full benefits of SIU representation. Rather than delay other CS crewmen from gaining the advantages of badly needed Union protection, the SIU decided not to contest this part of the decision at this time.

Although this ruling denying the right to vote is a blow to the Bosuns and Stewards, it appears only a question of time before they will win that right, since the present Congress has indicated it will either repeal or drastically modify the Taft-Hartley law.

for freedom from company domination and to win economic security through membership in the SIU.

The company had also sought to deny Pumpmen and Machinists the right to vote, but the SIU was successful in having this petition overruled.

Ever since Oct. 28, 1946, when the SIU first took steps to win recognition as collective bargaining agent for the Cities Service tankerman, the company has conducted a vicious campaign of intimidation and legal film-flamming to keep its employes from democratically choosing a bargaining representative. With the announcement of the NLRB's latest election order, the com-Meanwhile, Cities Service pany's resistance of its tanker-

SHIPS' MINUTES AND NEWS

Fooling With Fillies Dull Second To Seafaring Life, Oldtimer Says

Oldtimer Raymond Flynn wouldn't trade his shipboard post for a chance to ride the finest nag in the world. Currently sailing as Pantryman aboard the SS Del Norte, Flynn, who started riding ships in 1928 after a successful fling as a jockey,* says racing has no thrills like seafaring — not for his money, anyway.

Brother Flynn spent 12 of his 41 years fooling with the fillies before going to sea, so he gives out straight dope.

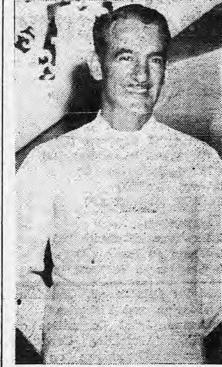

Of French-Irish stock, Flynn first turned to in the quiet little New Jersey town of Cranford, not far from the noise of New York City. That was in 1907. He had hardly given up riding a carriage when the family switched headquarters to Brooklyn.

BOY ON A HORSE

Flynn attended school there suntil he was nine. For reasons nof health, doctors advised the Flynn family to send young Raymond to a farm to build him up. That's how he got to know horses.

Before many seasons had passed young Flynn was working as an exercise boy for twenty with the help of Mike Hackett, Zouave in some hot competition a horse-breeder, Raymond got a at Maryland's Bowie Park. money and he was off on his losing mounts. career as a jockey.

UNION BOOSTER

When the SIU was formed 10 years later, Flynn saw the advantages of a union and was among the first to sign up and do his share to improve the seamen's lot. The proud holder of Book No. 46, Flynn says that men with SIU books are on the inside track.

"There's a thousand percent difference in conditions between the time I first went to sea and now," Ray declares.

"But while we must protect what we have already won, we must always strive for better things."

Flynn lives in New Orleans with his wife, Margaret, whom he met aboard the steamship Capitol in 1933. They were tied up after what is probably one of the swiftest courtships in the They met, Flynn proposed and Margaret accepted-all in a few hours. Flynn recalls that his sole assets on that mighty venture were a buck in cash and a new pair of shoes.

Like most SIU oldtimers, Ray sailed throughout the war and Francisco's new Atlantic and saw plenty of action. Among Gulf District. Journeying by his ships was the SS Florida. Luck was riding with him, he in Wilmington to learn they says, because he was never tor-

The trip, which began with the sign-on in Wilmington, Cal., on Aug. 27 and ended in Oakland on Nov. 1, "was fouled up from the start," according to crew member Edward Grothus.

After loading general cargo, mostly lumber, in Westminster and Vancouver, the Twin Falls straightened out and headed for the Hawaiian Islands. Her crewmen emerged from their tizzy with pick-me-up evenings in Honolulu's Sad Sam's and other other bistros familiar to the seafaring man restful afternoons on Waikiki Beach, says Brother Grothus. Other ports in which the Seafarers found pleasure were Port Allen, Kaweiliweili, Kuhului and Hilo.

Of eleven days on the return trip to Oakland, "four were spent lying offshore with but enough speed for steerage," Grothus says.

From the payoff Grothus two favorite cities. Brother Flynn orders were changed; the ship headed back to his native Iowa doesn't like New York. THE CORSAIR GETS SET TO SAIL

The trim Alcoa passenger-cargo vessel hums with activity as members of the Deck Gang make her ready for sea. Photo was taken day before sailing time as the "pride of the fleet" prepared to shove off from New Orleans on a regularlyscheduled Caribbean cruise.

CUT and RUN

By HANK

It looks like our New York brothers are starting the New Year off with a rush. Jobs are booming in our West Coast halls -and lots of brothers are getting out there somehow. Well, to the brothers in every SIU hall, we're launching our good and welfare suggestion for 1949-Ship in any job for any run. Thanks to our Organizing Program we have many SIU-contracted tankers-so grab those jobs. And don't forget to help out in knocking over Cities Service so we can dog down these ships with an SIU contract...(Sea) Man of Distinction: "Sir Charles" Oppenheimer, who has constantly stated his sincere views for the good and welfare of the union and the membership. Also a vote of thanks to him for writing letters last week to many Congressman urging them to stop the ECA from destroying our merchant marine.

Brother Pete de Pietro is in town. Okay, Pete, we won't mention peppers...Before Calvin Jones shipped out to European ports he received that good old stuff called-mail...Bill Rogers is another brother who got a package just before he sailed ... We wonder where Charles Watson, the Electrician, is right now...Before heading for Halifax, Percy Boyer (with traditional mustache) and Bill Story rolled ashore long enough to say hullo to the boys. Brother Story shaped us the amazing news that Brother "J.P." Creel down in New Orleans has refused to ship out ever since he built himself a home. That's militant mutiny-especially if several lonely shipmates are doggone disappointed in shipping out of New Orleans without Brother Creel.

Steward James Hand, well-known dog-breeder of Tampa, recently of the Alcoa Pioneer, sent in a list of questions a Steward is asked by the crew in any foreign port. These are just a few-Is the night lunch out yet? What time is the draw? How far is up-town? How many days will we be here? What about ordering some fresh milk? Has there been any mail for me? The question that is asked over and over again is "Is the old man back yet?"

The weekly LOG will be sailing free of cost to the homes of the following brothers-John Latella of New York, Everett Patronas of New York, B. Kinter of Alabama, Rendich Meola of New York, Ernest Buchser of Ohio, Paul Koval of California, George Stropich of Michigan, Rudolph Stoskopf of Virginia, Anthony Guida of New York, Robert Scales of Texas.

The ECA chief has tried to destroy our jobs. And on the other hand he is continuing to build up the foreign merchant marines, too. Read this news item, dated December 31, Washington, D.C .- "The Economic Co-operation Administration reported that Norway, with the aid of Marshall Plan funds, hopes to add nearly 3,000,000 tons of merchant shipping to its fleet by 1953. Already under construction in Swedish shippards, ECA said, is $21,800,000 worth of new shipping for the Norwegians."... We would like to say that President Truman has another job to do: keep our merchant marine affoat and expanding, not allow ships to be bone-yarded every month while at the same time we send steel and mony to foreign nations so they can keep on expanding their fleets.

EANTI-UNION SLANT

Frankly, these bulletins and talks wouldn't exactly be classed as anti-union, but they were presented in such a way that men who had no union experience or were unfamiliar with the nature of unions were cursing one and all labor organizations at the finish of each talk. They certainly didn't go out of their way to give the union people a decent break, as they slanted the news.

I was very fortunate in joining the SIU in 1946, and I was particularly lucky to make one of my early trips with Frank Reed, an oldtimer, who took time to give me a good union education on board ship. In this way I learned how necessary the trade union is to the working man and how different the union actually is from the picture painted by the daily news

We've had a lotta fun, spent a lotta money,

Smile a little, laugh a little, drink your beer.

Hang around tomorrow night, look for me.

My ship will be pushing, baby, far at sea.

Music in the jukebox, drinks on the table;

Ship's in the harbor tugging at her cable.

The world's fulla trouble, I'm fulla rum,

Go on and laugh, baby, I don't care,

I ever tell you how I like your hair?

See, they're turning out the neon light.

Home At Holidays, Seafarer Readies 'Fuzzy' For Show

This is the first Christmas I have been home to enjoy since 1944, and so far I have really enjoyed the holidays. First Christmas, then my daughter's birthday on December 28 and then New Year's Eve.

The men on the Alcoa Pioneer saw to it that my birthday did not pass without a cake, as you can see by the photograph. There was a real contrast between my birthday and my daughter's. At the tender age of six she insisted on going to the Columbia Restaurant in evening clothes. On my birthday I settled for work clothes and no shoes. These women!

An SIU man recently made a wisecrack about Matilda's Bar. Of course that brother meant it for a joke, but Matilda didn't take it that way. She's plenty salty about it. Maybe some brothers haven't been here, and when they see an article in the LOG about Puerto Rico they don't think it is important. They think this place is just a hole in the ocean.

Healthy, Strong Union Result Of Educational Program Ashore: Brady To the Editor: The twice-weekly educational programs now being sponsored by the Seafarers International Union at the New York Branch are something every member, when on the beach, should take advantage of to improve himself as an individual, and at the same time add to the organization as a whole. These educational programs, one in Parlimentary Proceedure conducted by Brother Glass every Tuesday night and the other in Forum Technique every Monday afternoon conducted by Blackie Cardullo, are just what the doctor ordered, for a healthy labor organization.

"Conference maketh ready the man," were the words of the English philosopher Francis Bacon. The value of that statement is borne out in an educational program that prepares men to know how to act under all circumstances.

Some of the boys might find trip of the Frances.

After a wonderful week in Antwerp and Rotterdam the trip home to New York seemed quite uneventful, that is until we ran into typical North Atlantic weather.

Although I'll be away from the sea for the next three years, that is no reason for my not wanting to follow the movements of the Union and my old buddies. I plan to go back to sea after my hitch is up with this outfit, so I'd like to be up to date on everything when I leave here.

Big John, Crew Get Lumps & Bumps Seafarers Debate Benefits In Cross-Country Hop To West Coast Of Transportation Ruling

To the Editor:

As I have stated before in my letters to you, you'll never have a dull moment if you ship out with me. This time was no exception.

On Nov. 8, I saw the SS Purdue Victory listed on the shipping board. She was on intercoastal and as she would be back in New York by New Year's Eve, I decided to make the run. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon I was told to report with my gear in the company's office on 19 Rector Street. We were to fly to the West Coast where the ship had been tied up during the strike.

Ahead of me in the office were most of the gang, and I was pleasantly surprised at seeing some of the fellows I know very well. Several with whom I had become close friends on the picketlines were there. Gene Nowakoski was to be our Chief Cook, Henry Bonk was one of the ABs. Toni and Fargo were also with us. > After bumping around in the fog for four hours we landed in Portland, where a bus was standing by to take us to Bradwood, where our ship was tied up. It was supposed to have been a six-hour ride, but as things happened it took us closer to ten hours to get there.

And here's why:

After spending forty hours relief crew was to take the tangling with the clouds and an occasional snowstorm, we get in with a driver who lets the bus run over the side of the road after which it somersaulted over ally, two busses arrived and took land, but we weren't to get into a creek. In line with the SIU policy of full discussion on all matters of policy, the LOG for the past several weeks has devoted space to the opinions of the member-Of course, we all made a play Elco, Nevada. The pilot didn't ship, both pro and con. All letters on the matter of transportation will be printed in the LOG during the coming weeks to give the membership ample time to form opinions on the rule. All possible steps are being taken to devote equal space to both sides of the controversy.

> In brief, the rule calls for men to take transportation money and pile off their ship when it pays off at a port other than the one in which the crew signed on. This applies in cases where the vessel does not start for the sign-on port within ten days.

To the Editor:

I think we should stick to the present transportation ruling. The cons in the SEAFARERS LOG do not make out a sufficiently clear case for returning to the old rule of handling transportation. The fact is that some members will benefit under the old proving to aid, ruling but most will benefit under the new set-up.

In this period of readjusting in the maritime industry it is natural that the wise fellows a short run-two months at the are going to homestead their most - sign off in the Gulf. ships. For family men it is expedient to remain on a vessel so that their families will be provided with a steady income.

Then, of course, we have those men who will stay on a ship until they kick the bucket. This situation is conducive to cliques quite intolerable to the average transportation money is used up. Joe. This last sentence, in one new rule, and thus must be a serious matter.

Rule Boomerangs

To the Editor:

I'd like to say a word or two on this new transportation ruling. The ruling has been passed, but as it turns out it is working more of a hardship on the general membership than it is

There are several ships on short runs that sign on crews in New York and after making Transportation is then paid back to the port of sign-on. THE GREEK WAY TO WEST-ERN CIVILIZATION, by Edith Hamilton; Pelican Mentor, 191 pages, 35 Cents.

This critical discussion of ancient Greek literature and life is thoroughly delightful, despite the forbidding title. There's nothing dusty about Miss Hamilton's scholarship. The life of Athens in the fourth and fifth centuries B. C. comes alive in her pages. Her narrative is as stimulating phone or visit the AMMLA ofas if she were writing about our fice nearest you. own times. People who have Boston, 408 Atlantic Ave. Liberoverlooked the writings of the Greeks, because they feared the Providence, Rhode Island State alleged heaviness of the classics, may find new inspiration in Miss Hamilton's volume.

I LOVE YOU, I LOVE YOU, I LOVE YOU, by Ludwig Bemelmans; Signet Books, 144 pages, 25 cents.

In the book's forward a newspaper book reviewer is quoted as saying "The time is now ripe for someone to stand up and Ludwig Bemelmans is a genius." Perhaps, he is, but the reviewer seems a little too free and easy with his bestowal of that rare quality.

The book, a collection of short stories of Bemelmans' travels abroad, is breezy reading with spots of delightful humor, but definitely not the work of a "genius." Bemelmans fans - a cult-will undoubtedly disagree.

* * * INDIANS OF THE AMERICAS. by John Collier. A New Mentor Book. Price 35 cents.

How many times in the ports of the world has each of us said, 'Yes, I am an American?" And yet how many of us have a clear idea of the lives and civilizations of the native American Indian?

Little known aspects of this native American life are discussed here by a former US Commissioner of Indian Affairs, a foremost authority on the subject. It is no chronological recounting. It is a deep, philosophical and introspective seaching-out of values in our heritage, by a socially conscious student who does not hold that 20th century America has all the answers.

If you do not know the meaning of such words as inchoate, 4, N. Y. animism, memonic, ecology, endogamy and empathy, you had L. V. Christiansen, John Dreisch, best take a dictionary along. It Juan V. Annual election of union officials by secret ballot.

All important decisions put to secret referendum vote, after thorough discussion at shipboard and shoreside meetings and through the SEAFARERS LOG.

The membership has no voice in the affairs or control of CTMA.

A "proposed constitution" has already been drawn up by company lawyer, which puts all the power into the hands of an "Advisory Counselor" (read "company lawyer").
